British To Urge 25 Per Cent Reduction In War Debts

PROPOSAL TO BE MADE AT CONFERENCE

Financial Circles Fearing
Germany on Verge of Defaulting Payments
"FEELERS" SENT OUT

Conversations Started in Private Expected to Come Up at Lausanne

LONDON, May 5.—(UP)—The British government was credited in well-informed circles today with the intention to propose at least a 25 per cent all round reduction of war debts and reparations at the Lausanne conference meeting in June.

Several unimpeachable sources revealed to the United Press that recent developments in the world economic situation, particularly the increasing gravity of Germany's predicament, brought a radical about face in Britain's attitude.

Financial circles and some politicians were understood to fear Germany not only was on the verge of defaulting on reparations payments, but also on her commercial debts. It was believed that Britain's new attitude was due primarily to the fear that such German default would precipitate the already precarious positions of international banking firms centuries old and well known throughout the world.

It was believed "feelers" on the new British attitude on war debts were extended by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald on his recent visit to Geneva in private conversations with certain European statesmen. The gist of the suggestions were said to include the British belief that the present hand-to-mouth world financial policy is perilous; that constant threats of default by various debtors give the clearest indication of either inability or definite unwillingness to pay debts, and that in view of the dangerous uncertainty reflected in the world money markets, the time has arrived when it is imperative to clear up the situation and abandon such temporary measures as the Hoover moratorium, substituting instead reduced but permanent agreements to pay more reasonable sums.

It was believed that when MacDonald returns from the second operation to save his sight, performed today, he was likely to resume officially the conversations which started in private at Geneva in an attempt to obtain the promises from Germany to adhere strictly to payments henceforth if the payments are reduced.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(UP)—The senate finance committee after several quick shifts of sentiment today voted to increase income and surtax rates in an effort to raise sufficient money in the tax bill to balance the budget.

The income tax rates subject to exemptions were voted at 4 per cent on the first $4000 and 8 per cent over $4000.

Surtax rates begin with 1 per cent at $6000 and increase to 55 per cent on incomes greater than $1,000,000.

IRRIGATION CASE TO HIGHER COURT

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 5.—(UP)—Attorneys seeking to determine the question of priority of irrigation district taxes today had 60 days in which to file briefs with the California supreme court.

The supreme court recently upheld the district's claims to priority over city and county taxes, but granted a rehearing on petition of numerous cities and counties.

NEWSPAPERS OF NATION HIT BY TAX ACTION

Levies on Telegraph and Telephone Messages Big
Blow to Press

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(UP)—The senate finance committee after several quick shifts of sentiment today voted to increase income and surtax rates in an effort to raise sufficient money in the tax bill to balance the budget.

The income tax rates subject to exemptions were voted at 4 per cent on the first $4000 and 8 per cent over $4000.

Surtax rates begin with 1 per cent at $6000 and increase to 55 per cent on incomes greater than $1,000,000.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(UP)—The senate finance committee by action taken late yesterday made a permanent part of the national tax plan taxes which will cost the newspapers of the country, according to estimates by government experts, a million dollars a year.

These taxes are levied on telephone and telegraph messages, cablegrams and radiograms and on wires used in the transmission of news. The taxes on telephone messages range from 10 to 20 cents per message, according to the amount of toll. On telegrams the tax will be five per cent of the toll. The tax on radiograms and cablegrams is 10 cents for each message. On wires used for news transmission, the tax will be five per cent of the charges paid.

News gathering facilities had been exempted from taxation in the revenue bill as passed by the house. The senate finance committee removed this exemption but first specified that the taxes would cease July 1, 1934. Yesterday the finance committee revoked the time limit on the taxes and voted to make them a permanent part of the revenue raising scheme to continue indefinitely.

While government experts estimate that this will cost newspapers a million dollars annually, many believe the amount to be collected will exceed that figure this year.

The national conventions and the national campaign and the election, as well as state elections will call for an unusually heavy use of news transmission facilities by newspapers throughout the country.

The Olympic games in Los Angeles this summer will require extensive use of cables, telegraph and telephone wires, adding to the usually heavy use of such facilities which even a normal summer sports season demands.

Most state legislatures will convene immediately after the first of the year for sessions of more than ordinary importance and will necessitate extensive use of wire facilities by hundreds of newspapers.

LAWLESSNESS ATTACKED

RIVERSIDE, Calif., May 5.—(UP)—Lawless enforcement of the law was assailed in an address before the California social work conference here in an address by Superior Judge Leon Yankwich of Los Angeles.

Asserting that "lawlessness in the administration of law in the United States today is an accepted fact," Judge Yankwich said that a political system such as that of America cannot tolerate such a condition.

Group meetings devoted to particular problems of the conference were conducted.

FULL PARDONS ARE ASKED FOR HONOR SLAYERS

Movement Started to Wipe
Out Last Vestige of Conviction Stigma

HONOLULU, T. H., May 5.—(INS)—A movement to wipe away the last vestige of stigma that might legally attach itself to the names of Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, gained momentum today.

Despite the fact that the four "honor slaying" defendants received commutation of their ten year manslaughter sentences in a fashion that virtually amounted to a pardon, since none of their mainland civil rights have been lost, new pressure has been brought to bear on Gov. Lawrence Judd to grant full pardons.

Private citizens as well as civic organizations joined in the demand to remove the legal blame for the killing of Joseph Kahahawai.

Meanwhile it appeared unlikely that the four men accused with Kahahawai of the attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie that precipitated the tragedy would be brought back into court.

Although the territory openly announced it is ready to proceed with their retrial, Clarence Darrow, legal advisor to the four Americans, has urged that it be dropped in order to spare Mrs. Massie.

The fact that Mrs. Massie planned to sail for the mainland on Sunday would indicate that the charges would be nolle prossed, since without her the state has no case. A dropping of the charges would also pacify the native elements.

Prosecutor Kelley and Attorney General Harry Hewitt announced the attack case would be retried at once. It is tentatively set for May 23.

Darrow said the question of restoring civil rights which the four lost by their conviction would be taken up later.

"The commutation is really a pardon, although theoretically they are still classed as felons," he said. "They have served their time. I believe congress will act to restore Lt. Massie's position in the navy, provided the conviction made any change in his status. I feel that in lieu of a present pardon, the decision as to their rights must be made in Washington."

Mrs. Fortescue, busy sending messages to relatives and friends on the mainland, smiled warmly.

QUARANTINE TO BE MODIFIED SOON

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 5.—(UP)—Negotiations looking toward the lifting of the Canadian quarantine placed as a result of an outbreak of foot and mouth disease are under way, state and federal officials said today.

Dudley Moulton, state director of agriculture, said a modification to permit entry of garden produce was being sought.

No further outbreaks of foot and mouth disease have been reported and the situation is believed "completely under control."

MARY PICKFORD IS BACK IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—(UP)—Mary Pickford famous as the "sweetheart of the screen," was back in Hollywood today, after an extended visit in the east.

Miss Pickford said her next picture, the thirteenth scenario written for her by Frances Marion, will soon go into production. The story involves the lives of two sisters. It was said.

The actress will go to San Francisco shortly to meet her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, who returns from a location trip in the South Sea.

Mrs. Fortescue Never Wants To See Hawaii

HONOLULU, T. H., May 5.—(INS)—Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue never wants to see Hawaii again, she said today.

"When I leave here I never want to come back as long as I live," she asserted.

"While naturally I am overjoyed at Governor Judd's action, yet these islands will always hold for me the bitterest of memories."

"I will never be able to blot out all the terrible things that happened in these few short months, but, oh, how I wish I could."

World Copyright 1932 by U. P.
LONDON, May 5.—(UP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who is remaining at the head of the British government despite a risk of blindness, underwent an operation this morning on his right eye. The operation was officially pronounced successful.

It was the second eye operation the prime minister has had.

He has chosen to remain in office, the United Press learned, although his decision may hasten the apparently inevitable day when he will be totally blind.

There is little chance that he can retain his sight if he continues the exacting routine required at No. 10 Downing street, and he must avoid eye strain and overwork consistently to preserve what strength he has left in his eyes.

TIJUANA SALOONS FACING RUINATION

TIJUANA, Mex., May 5.—(UP)—With the shadow of a virtual prohibition hanging over the city, Tijuana residents today celebrated the fifth of May, Mexico's Independence day.

The prohibition may result, Tijuana business men claim, from a new federal tax of 100 pesos a month, effective May 10, on all places which deal in alcoholic beverages.

The saloonkeepers and cabaret owners here have declared the tax will make it impossible to operate. And they will close rather than pay it. Protests have been sent to Mexico City.

A big parade was the principal feature of today's celebration. Virtually all military and civic organizations were to take part in the various events.

PEACE PACT ON SHANGHAI AREA SIGNED TODAY

Japanese and Chinese Representatives, Propped
Up in Beds, Sign

SHANGHAI, May 5.—(UP)—Representatives of the Japanese and Chinese governments were propped up in their hospital beds today to sign an agreement which ended hostilities in the Shanghai area.

A Japanese surgeon amputated the right leg of Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu soon after he signed the agreement. He was the most seriously hurt of the five highest Japanese officials here wounded in a recent bombing.

The Japanese volunteered to start withdrawal of their troops tomorrow "as the first step in the faithful execution of the agreement."

Withdrawal is to be completed in four weeks.

After Shigemitsu signed, the agreement was taken to the Japanese military hospital for signature of Gen. Kenkichi Uryeda, also injured in the bombing.

Chinese Vice Foreign Minister Quo Tai-Chi signed at the Chinese hospital, where he was taken after a student mob invaded his home and beat him severely during a reception for Shanghai civic leaders.

The agreement provided:

- 1.—Cessation of hostilities from today.
- 2.—The Chinese will retain their present positions.
- 3.—The Japanese will withdraw from the international settlement and extra-settlement roads as before fighting started Jan. 28, except that some troops may be temporarily stationed in adjacent localities.
- 4.—A joint commission of 12, two representatives each from Japan, China, the United States, France, Great Britain and Italy, will carry out the withdrawal of troops and collaborate in the transfer of administration from Japanese troops to Chinese police.
- 5.—Effective from date of signature, the English text of the agreement will be observed, although Chinese and Japanese versions will be signed later.

ROBBERY IS FOILED WHEN POLICE ENTER

ALLEGED to have been caught in the act of holding up at the point of a pistol Victor Fosberg, night man at Becker's Garage, 308 East Third street, at 11:45 o'clock last night, a man identified as Raymond Brenner, 23, of Seattle, Wn., was shot and seriously wounded by Detective Sergeant Arthur L. Steward.

The bandit was rushed to the Orange county hospital, where it was reported today that his condition was serious. The bullet struck him almost on the point of the chin, broke the jaw and lodged on the left side of the jaw. It had not been removed at noon today but Brenner had regained consciousness.

In a parked automobile, a block away, police found Mrs. Brenner, calmly awaiting her husband. She was taken to the police station where she is being held, but has not been arrested, police said.

According to Steward, he went to the garage to report into headquarters on the quarter hour. He opened the door and within two feet of him Fosberg was standing with his hands up and the bandit turned to him and said: "Stick 'em up," pointing the pistol at him. Steward quickly slammed the door, and stepped to one side, at the same time drawing his pistol. The bandit stooped behind the glass section of the door, apparently expecting Steward to come back in through the door. Instead, Steward peeped through the glass panel, saw the man crouching and then fired through the wooden panel. The bullet bowled the bandit over on the floor.

The officer disarmed him, and, with the aid of Fosberg, summoned an ambulance, rushing him to the county hospital.

WIFE WAITS IN CAR

The bandit had entered the garage and found Fosberg in the rear of the place. He covered him with a gun and told him he was desperate for money. Fosberg was ordered to give him the contents of the cash register. Fosberg told him there was no use in holding him up, that he would give him a few dollars. This seemed to meet with the bandit's approval for he pocketed his pistol and turned with Fosberg to the cash register.

When the two men reached the cash register however, the bandit apparently changed his mind. He drew his gun and told Fosberg to hand over all the money. The till was robbed of $10.25 which was found in the man's pockets at the hospital some time later.

Santa Ana police declared today that Brenner, apparently believing he was going to die, had admitted today that he and his wife were on their way to San Diego from Seattle. In Portland he had held up a police officer and had taken his pistol and $20 in cash. It was the policeman's pistol that the bandit used last night, he said.

The car in which the couple were riding was registered to Leo Pellan, of Seattle. Police are today checking the ownership of it.

NEGOTIATORS FAIL IN FIFTH ATTEMPT

NORFOLK, Va., May 5.—(UP)—Unsuccessful in their fifth cruise to sea in search of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., John Hughes Curtis and his associates expected to start another today.

They hope that, weather permitting, a group of men who say they have the Lindbergh baby will meet them off the coast and deliver the baby to them.

There seems little doubt now that Charles A. Lindbergh, Sr., has been aboard the Marcon, Diesel-motored yacht in which the Curtis cruises are made, for at least one trip. His presence would be a guarantee of his faith in the authenticity of the group with which Curtis is dealing.

DOCTOR SITS IN AUTO AND ENDS HIS LIFE

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—(UP)—Dr. George T. Boyd, 49, apparently sat in his automobile for hours deliberating over the manner in which to kill himself before he squeezed a hypodermic injection of poison into his arm, police reported today.

Dr. Boyd, said to be a member of the staff of Hollywood hospital, was found slumped over the wheel of his car by passing motorists last night. He was taken to a hospital where he died early today.

AL CAPONE IS LODGED BEHIND PRISON WALLS

Notorious Gangster Becomes Just Another Prisoner at Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga., May 5.—(UP)—Al Capone, whose name has flashed throughout the world as head of Chicago's unmerciful criminal syndicate, today was just another number behind the stone walls of Atlanta federal penitentiary.

The fat, bragging gangster arrived last night—amid a very weak racket from a few prisoners—and became No. 40,886 for as long as he serves on his 11-year term, pressed upon him through conviction on a charge of violating income tax laws.

"Scarface Al," whose word was law in the underworld of Chicago, found himself completely ignored when he arrived at the penitentiary. He seemed unable to understand and fidgeted as he held his coat, his little black traveling bag and his gray fedora.

He had been accustomed to the limelight and even shortly before his arrival had basked in the words of an interview.

"Al," he was asked, "what kind of work do you want to do at the pen?"

"Well, I'm too heavy for light work and too light for heavy work," and he winked broadly to bring the laughs.

He continued:

"I'm interested in all kinds of sports, mostly baseball. I'm a pretty fair pitcher and first baseman. I don't like professional football."

"If I can get into the sports end of this thing I'll have Mickey Walker down here in 30 days and I'll get Jack Johnson, too."

That apparently was the last boast of the man who only yesterday—had he been enroute to the prison—sneered and jeered in commenting on how Chicago would miss him and his "fixing" and "protection" powers.

He had been assured that the prison was operated in all fairness and he had remarked that it was a wonderful thing to "have fairness and harmony in them places."

But when Al Capone, super gangster, arrived at the prison, he was merely just another convict. He waited, hat in hand, in the main hallway for almost five minutes. He shifted uneasily. Finally a guard motioned and Capone started in the processes which made him No. 40,886.

Today Capone will be fingerprinted and photographed and after that officials will decide what he is to do in the prison, which already houses 3100 convicts. He might peel potatoes, he might be an office boy, or if he is graded as of sufficient intelligence he may be put to work in the tailor shop.

CHARGE HARDING AIDE WITH KIDNAP FRAUD

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(UP)—Gaston E. Means, former government agent who gained notoriety during the administration of President Harding, was arrested this afternoon and two hours later pleaded not guilty on a charge of defrauding Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean out of $100,000.

Means had been engaged by Mrs. McLean, according to her attorney, Albert Fox, to bring about the return of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby. Six weeks ago Means allegedly prevailed on Mrs. McLean to give him the money. Since then neither the money, designed for ransom, nor the child has been returned.

ALBERT FALL TO BE RELEASED SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(UP)—Albert B. Fall, one time secretary of interior, now serving a sentence of a year and a day in the New Mexico state penitentiary, will not be required to take the pauper's oath in lieu of payment of his $100,000 fine, Attorney General Mitchell said today.

Fall is scheduled to be released from the penitentiary Sunday, having completed his sentence with deductions for good behavior.

Mitchell explained that the fine was not joined with the prison sentence in the commitment of Fall and hence the usual requirement that Fall take the pauper's oath and serve 30 additional days in jail does not apply.

FULL PARDONS ARE ASKED FOR HONOR SLAYERS

Word of the commutation was quickly noised about the city, where for days various factions had been diligently campaigning for pardons and moulding public opinion to a high pitch. At first the news was greeted with joy over their freedom, but soon the pardon proponents became angered.

Natives, who always have felt an innocent member of their race had been done to death—Kahahawai never was convicted of the attack—were on the other hand wrathful because the law had not exacted its full penalty.

Princes Wakananaka, Republican national committeewoman here and acknowledged leader of her race, protested the commutation was a "travesty and a farce."

"The atmosphere has been so permeated with laxity of conditions and strict law enforcement that the belief that justice could be served only by strict adherence to the law has become part of our daily existence," she said.

"Are we to infer from the governor's act that there are two sets of laws in Hawaii—one for the favored few and the other for people in general?"

The Honolulu Advertiser, which last week editorially reprimanded Prosecutor Kelly for his "to hell with admirals" statement to the jury, also criticized Judd.

"In view of the clemency recommendation of the jury, together with the request of Congressional Delegate Houston and more than 100 congressmen that he issue a full pardon, the Advertiser feels Governor Judd in giving them a mere commutation of sentence, has evaded the issue and again placed Hawaii in an unenviable light before the nation," the paper said today.

"The governor's action has the effect of grudging acquiescence to a powerful public sentiment, whereas by granting a pardon he would have gracefully complied with that sentiment. It is understood that his direct chief, the secretary of the interior, made a specific request for a pardon. It is difficult, in view of all the facts, to understand the workings of the governor's mind."

Six girls, one from each grade at the schools, represented each school in the contest. Girl contestants were judged on various health points, including posture, body symmetry, tonsils, eyes, teeth and feet.

Following an assembly held at 1 p. m. when a social program of songs and dances was held, a posture parade was held with 350 girls from the two schools entered. The two teams were mixed, with members of each team from both schools. One team was attired in red and the other yellow costumes. After the posture parade, games were played in which the red team was declared winner after capturing a total 11 out of 21 points.

At another assembly held afterwards, each girl in the health contest was awarded a corsage of flowers. W. Maxwell Burke, member of the board of education, made the closing address of the day.

NEW MEMBERS OF JURY PANEL HEAR 2 CASES

Two cases went to juries in departments one and two almost simultaneously this morning. These are the first cases to come before the new jury panel called for service this quarter.

In department one the jury retired at 10:47 to deliberate upon the fate of Victor Johnson, former employee at the Santiago dam. Johnson is facing the court for the second time on a burglary charge. At his first trial the jury deliberated for 32 hours and was discharged by Superior Judge H. G. Ames when members reported that they were hopelessly deadlocked.

Johnson is accused of having burglarized the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Balkam at 1066 West First street. The prosecution alleges that the Balkams left their apartment shortly after dark one night several weeks ago. Within a few minutes Mrs. Balkam returned and found Johnson ransacking a bureau drawer in the apartment. Johnson is alleged to have fled and was captured by Balkam who turned him over to the police.

Johnson, through his attorney, Morris Cain, has based his defense upon an attempt to prove that he had gone to the apartment house to visit a friend of his. He claims that the friend told him to enter his apartment and wait at any time he called. The friend, he testified, had moved to a new location without informing him. He claims that he entered the Balkam apartment by mistake. Leo B. Fris is representing the prosecution.

A jury in department two started deliberation at 10:48 a. m. on whether or not Floyd Giesendorfer is insane. Giesendorfer was found guilty more than a year ago by a jury, on charges of grand theft in connection with the theft of a cow from Huntington Beach. Superior Judge G. K. Scofield before whom the felony charge was prosecuted delayed time of pronouncing judgment and ordered a sanity hearing before a jury.

ROBBER CHASED THREE BLOCKS BY PRINCIPAL

A 19 year old burglar, identified as George Kilstrom, of 751 Ximeno street, Long Beach, was arrested yesterday afternoon after an exciting chase in which a Santa Ana woman participated, and after he had robbed six Santa Ana schools. Checks totalling $679 were destroyed by the thief, who is being held in the county jail, booked on a robbery charge.

One of the first schools visited by Kilstrom was the Franklin school, at Fourth and Pacific avenue where he stole a purse owned by Miss Evelyn Yount, teacher, which contained $13 in cash and a voucher for $10, her monthly pay. A number of school children saw the man and the robbery was quickly detected.

The police were called and an alarm was sent out to all other city schools, thinking it might be the robber who recently robbed a number of Long Beach schools, but the man had visited several schools prior to this time and went to two others after the Franklin school robbery.

He went from the Franklin school to the Lincoln school, located at Fifteenth and French streets, where he stole the pocket books of three teachers, Miss Minnie Penman, which contained a voucher for $160 and small change; Miss Doris Schenck, which contained a fountain pen and $2 in cash and Miss M. Todd, which contained checks for $170 and some small change.

Chased By Teacher From there the thief rode a bicycle stolen from a school boy to the Roosevelt school, on East First street. The school had been notified by this time and Miss Vera Wells, principal, met the man in the hall. He turned and ran when he saw he had been detected and Miss Wells gave chase, running after him down First street for several blocks before he cut across the trail by this time, and after several minutes of searching the man was located in the Motor Transit Lines station at Third and Spurgeon streets where he was placed under arrest.

Soon after being arrested he broke away from Officers Harry Fink, assistant chief of police and Patrolman W. H. Heard and started upon an alley. A well placed shot from Heard's pistol stopped him as he dashed away. The officer fired over the fugitive's head.

Reports of the theft of the purse of Mrs. R. H. Drake, at the McKinley school which contained $209 in checks and $4 in cash, and the theft of cash from purses at the Julia Lathrop school, the Edison school and at the John Muir school yesterday. Two purses were robbed at the Muir school, but in this case the purses were left where they were found.

Admits Robberies According to Officer Fink, Kilstrom admitted all of the six robberies, stating that at the Muir school and at the Edison school he had more time to rob the purses, therefore leaving the purses where he found them.

Three of the five purses that were taken by the man have been recovered by officers, but the cash vouchers in all of them had been torn up by Kilstrom. The operator's licenses of the school teachers and all other papers in the purses had been torn to bits.

Today, in jail, Kilstrom is said to have admitted that he had robbed 14 schools in Long Beach recently and had staged two home burglaries there.

Long Beach police reported they had been attempting to catch the school burglar for several weeks. Records of the youth indicate that he served 18 months at the state school at Whittier for boys and that he had served two years in the reformatory at Ione.

DECLARES LAW WILL PREVENT STATUS ASKED

Obstacles loomed this morning in the path of Lotus H. Loudon, publisher of the Anaheim Bulletin, in his attempt to have the Santa Ana Bulletin declared a legal newspaper of general circulation. Ira F. Fleming, through his attorney Harry Wharton of Anaheim, has filed an answer to Loudon's petition filed several days ago in superior court.

Fleming's answer challenges the right of the Santa Ana Bulletin to request recognition as a legal newspaper of general circulation on the grounds that it is printed in Anaheim at this time and has been printed there for the past seven months, and has lost its standing as a legal newspaper of general circulation in Santa Ana and cannot have the same status established in Anaheim until one full year has elapsed after the date printing started in Anaheim.

Fleming's attorney has pointed out a decision in a similar case where the Monrovia Evening Post, printed in Pasadena, sought to have its legal standing established in Monrovia. In that case the state supreme court ruled that a newspaper is "published" where it is "printed." This decision was based upon that part of section 4463 of the Political Code which says:

"The word 'published' as used in said section, shall mean, and be construed to mean, that such a newspaper of general circulation shall have been issued from the place where it is printed, and sold to or circulated among the people and its subscribers during the whole of the period designated or required by said section; and in no case shall the words 'printed' and 'published' be construed as synonymous, but each shall be understood to relate to separate acts necessary to constitute a newspaper of general circulation."

In this case the court ruling was: "The word 'publish' ordinarily means to disclose, reveal, proclaim, circulate or make public; but as the term is used in section 4463 of the Political Code, it is limited by the provisions of section 4463 to mean that the newspaper shall have been actually issued from the identical city or political subdivision where it is printed."

Section 4463, Political Code, according to the ruling in the Monrovia Evening Post case, "specifically holds that it is 'printed' and the mechanical work of producing a paper to wit, the operation of type-setting and impressing the type upon the paper is performed."

In his petition to have the standing of the Santa Ana Bulletin ascertained Loudon declares that the "mechanical work of producing the Santa Ana Bulletin as a newspaper of general circulation has been performed during the whole of said period within the county of Orange—that the Santa Ana Bulletin has been issued from the principal place of business in Santa Ana, sold to and circulated among the people and its subscribers."

Discrepancy The petition also alleges that the Bulletin is a newspaper of general circulation, published in the city of Santa Ana.

Fleming, in his action to prevent establishment of the legal standing of the Bulletin denies that the Santa Ana Bulletin has been issued, during the whole period of time as alleged in Loudon's petition from the principal place of business in Santa Ana or elsewhere in the county of Orange.

In his petition, Fleming charges that the Bulletin ceased to be a newspaper of general circulation at the time the mechanical work of producing it or the major portion thereof, was done outside of Santa Ana.

Fleming's attorney is basing this charge upon a recent ruling in the superior court of Los Angeles county when it was decided that the Lynwood, Calif. Press, a weekly publication, had lost its standing as a newspaper of general circulation.

Ruling Against Paper The court held that the Lynwood Press, by printing six consecutive issues in Los Angeles during last January and February, had failed to comply with the legal requirements that at least 50 per cent of the editions must be printed within the limits of its own municipality.

The action was brought by the

PICNIC PERMIT TO HUNGARIANS IS CANCELLED

Plans for another picnic to have been held at Concordia park, May 15, by the Hungarian Sick and Death Benefit society similar to the one held in Anaheim on May day which drew the watchful eyes of police officers all over this section because of the society's alleged communistic connections, have been canceled, Anaheim police announced they had been informed today.

The society's contract with the Concordia club for a second picnic has been cancelled by Herman Ekfer, secretary of the Concordia club, who was quoted as having said he had been double crossed by the society.

At the same time it was learned that Ekfer himself broke up last Sunday's gathering of over 700 alleged communists in attendance by switching off the lights when speakers gave indication that they expected to carry through the speaking program on which police had claimed the lid.

Ekfer announced to leaders there would be no speech making, it was said, as he plunged the scene in darkness. Shortly thereafter the picnic disbanded and the thwarted crowd went home. It had assembled from all over Southern California early in the morning and stayed until after midnight. There were practically no Anaheim people among the 700 present, it was reported.

Anaheim police were "tipped" of the local May day gathering by Long Beach police last Saturday and immediately began preparations to prevent demonstrations or unpatriotic efforts of any kind. Every member of the police force was ordered to remain in the city Sunday; arrangements were made with police of nearby cities and the sheriff's office in Santa Ana to send reinforcements if necessary; a generous supply of gas bombs was assembled, and state officers keeping tabs on communistic activities in California came to the city.

Early Sunday morning police notified officials of the society that no demonstration, no speaking and no disorder would be allowed. A reported plan to distribute communistic literature through the schools was also claimed to have been nipped. State officers passing through the crowd were declared to have recognized agitators and to have been recognized by them. No attempt was made, however, to interfere with an orderly picnic.

It was the first time Anaheim had ever been chosen as a meeting place for communists and the official reception meetings in the future. Moreover, Chief of Police James Bouldin, armed with a list of 37 branch organizations of the Communist party in America, of which the Hungarian Sick and Death Benefit society is one, announced that none of them will be permitted to rent a hall or hold meetings in the city for unpatriotic purposes.

Today Chief Bouldin was supplied with photostatic copies of a diagram showing "the organization of Communism in America" which depicts in graphic form the inter-relationship of 49 different organizations all answerable to the Communist Party U. S. S. R., which heads the list. Chief Bouldin did not reveal the source of these photostats.

Next to the head of the organization is "The Inner Circle or Polit Bureau" which, according to the setup released by Chief Bouldin, controls on the one hand the Soviet government U. S. S. R., Council of Peoples Commissars, Arcos, Ltd., of London; Amalgamated Trading Organization and Gostorg, the government export and import bureau. Under the American Trading organization is a setup of 54 publications "all urging overthrow of our government."

Also answerable to the "Inner Circle" is the Third Internationale, also known as the Communist International, with its executive committee or Komintern which in addition to directing the Communist Party U. S. A. controls the famous G. P. U., or Secret Police and 58 such parties in other countries. Under direction of the Communist Party U. S. A. are 37 minor organizations including the Hungarian Sick and Death Benefit society.

GRAND CENTRAL TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Beginning Saturday, every one of the business establishments in the Grand Central Market will stage a solid week of commercial "whoopie" in observance of the tenth anniversary of the opening of the market in Santa Ana for business. The market was then, as it is now, the largest public market in the United States in any city the size of Santa Ana.

The Santa Ana Development company, however, which in 1922 purchased the entire block bounded by First, Second, Broadway and Sycamore, decided that a big public market was the most feasible project for the development of the property. At that time the entire block was vacant, and there was no retail section between it and Fourth street.

The market was therefore constructed almost exactly in the center of the block and extending from Broadway to Sycamore, its original dimensions being 250 by 75 feet. Two years later the Arcade to the north was added, with an area of 100 by 75 feet, giving a total of 26,250 square feet as the great market stands today.

When the market opened in May, 1922, every foot of space was occupied and 12,000 people swarmed through its aisles on the day of its opening, which was quite a crowd, considering the population of the city at that time.

In the market proper are located 31 separate business concerns, as follows: Three grocery stores, three meat markets, four fruit and vegetable stands, one jewelry store, two tobacco stores, one fish and poultry store, one candy store, one real estate office, one health food store, one radio shop, one cafe, one bakery, two delicatessens, one dry cleaner, one flower shop, one barber shop, one shoe shine stand, one washing-machine sales booth, one shoe repair shop, one hemstitching shop, one silk hosiery mending shop and one beauty parlor.

In the same block, outside the market proper are a grocery, one meat market, one fruit and vegetable stand, one real estate office, one drug store, one drapery and shade store, one feed and fuel store, one garage, one tire shop, one filling and super-service station, one blue print shop, one dry cleaner, and last but not least, the largest apartment house in the city, comprising 29 single and double units with an attractive downstairs lobby. Thus it will be seen that in the Grand Central block as a whole there are 44 business establishments.

The location of the market brought subsequent development to that part of the city estimated at a value of an even million dollars in new buildings, according to officials.

FIND ALL-BRAN HAS TWICE THE USABLE IRON IN LIVER

Also Furnishes "Bulk" and Vitamin B to Overcome Common Constipation

Liver is known as a good source of iron for the blood. Now, new tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

But more important still, laboratory experiments show ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract.

This means Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a fine way to overcome constipation—with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so frequently result.

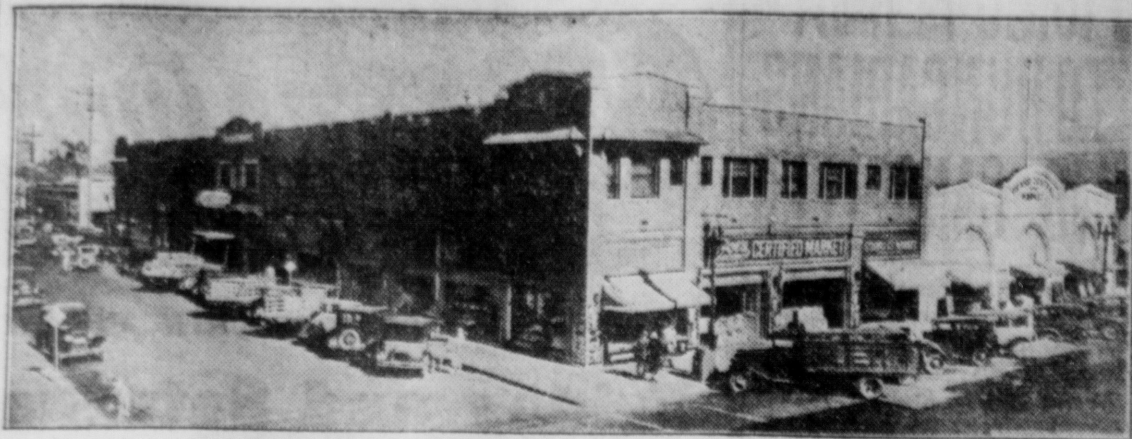

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture, forming a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, milder, more palatable.

How much better than risking pills and drugs—so often habit-forming. Just eat two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN daily for most types of constipation. It is not habit-forming. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SITE OF ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Shown below is the Grand Central Market building and annex, where merchants are joining in a great celebration, commencing Saturday and continuing for one week, in observance of the tenth anniversary of the establishment of this market. The photo was taken from the intersection of Second and Broadway.

Today and Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMAN

The Rout in Washington

By a vote of nearly five to one and after a debate of only forty minutes the House on Monday passed a bill which would create three new classes of government dependents and obligate the taxpayers to provide something like a hundred million dollars a year for perhaps fifty or sixty years to come. The three new classes are, first, widows of men who wore a uniform for ninety days, providing the widow married the veteran five years before his death and providing that in addition to her earnings she has a net income of less than $250 a year; second, the children of veterans until the age of sixteen or until they marry, provided the child does not have an actual net income of $400 a year; and third, any child of a veteran for the whole of his life if that child is permanently incapable of self-support by reason of mental or physical defect.

The actual payments provided are small: for widows the sum is only $20 a month, for a widow with children it is $6 a month additional for each child, for a child which is an orphan it is $20 a month, and $6 additional for each of his brothers and sisters. But as the committee reporting the bill pointed out: "While this measure is not what we want, it is the best we could do under the circumstances." It is indeed, for once the principle is established that the government must support the widows and children of veterans, the actual cash payments can be increased whenever Congressmen feel that they need to buy some more votes.

By its legislation during the last ten years Congress has created a privileged class, a class of men who have rights which no other citizens possess. All that is needed to be a member of that class is to have put on a uniform a day or two before the war ended. By this new legislation the privileges of this class would become hereditary. Our own historical experience shows that once established such privileges are never renounced and never reduced. They can only be increased.

If the country agrees to the hereditary principle, it will have created a new class of voters who will hang together because they have a common interest in appropriations from the treasury. Because they hang together they will terrorize congressmen. In addition to the veterans' bloc, we shall then have the widows' bloc and the guardians of orphans' bloc. That ought to constitute a large enough body of voters to make it impossible for Congress ever to resist any demand from the veterans' lobbies.

There are no doubt some Congressmen who sincerely believe that a man who once wore a uniform has done some extraordinary service to the nation that he and his widow and his children and even his parents are entitled to draw money from the Treasury for decades to come. But there are not many Congressmen who really think that. Most of them believe that the financial obligation has been discharged except to men disabled in the line of duty and to the dependents of men who died in the service. Why then do they vote these measures?

They vote them because they wish to be re-elected. Because they like to draw $10,000 a year. Because they like the perquisites. Because they like the importance which they enjoy. Because they hope to become Senators and Governors. That is the whole of it. By voting public money to the veterans and the veteran's widows they are able to buy a good many votes. It is as crude as that.

What is a nation to do when it finds itself the victim of such a traffic? Nothing, unless it has the moral strength to rise under new leaders who will lead a crusade against this utter demoralization of representative government. The London Times was right when it said this week that

What disturbs the American public is that Congress, instead of setting an example of steadiness and co-operation to a country facing a crisis, has allowed itself to become bewildered and disorganized. Still more disturbing, is the fact that party leaders seem almost to have abdicated their functions at a time when their guidance is so urgently needed.

Where are the party leaders in this crisis? Is it silly and theoretical and academic to suggest that the demoralization in Washington is bad enough, and the consequences it may entail dangerous enough, to warrant the recognized leaders of both parties in taking some extraordinary measure to stop the rout? The Democratic party has three men whom it has honored with a Presidential nomination, Mr. Cox, Mr. Davis and Mr. Smith. It has also five men whom it might nominate, Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Baker, Mr. Young, Mr. Ritchie and Mr. Traynor. What if those eight men went to Washington, sat down with the leaders in Congress and with the President and agreed upon a national program of taxation and economies?

The suggestion is absurd if what is going on in Washington is not important. But if it is important, if our leaders really believe that an honest effort to set the public finances in order is vital to the welfare of the American people, if they mean to put the national interest above all partisan and political ambitions then the suggestion is not absurd.

In fact this suggestion, which looks so visionary at first glance, would be fairly normal practice in any other country faced with a similar situation. Even we did the same sort of thing in 1917. It could be done now if the country demanded it. If it were done with faith and resolution, it might turn the tide. Copyright, 1932, New York Tribune Inc.

MANY ATTEND COZAD FAMILY REUNION

The 105 descendants of Major Henry Cozad, Civil War veteran, who attended the annual Cozad reunion at Irvine park Sunday, today were still talking over old times and were already planning for another reunion next year. While there were 105 members of the family present, there were 41 that were unable to attend. The Cozad drum corps, composed of the five brothers of Henry Cozad, played stirring martial music at the park affair.

LeRoy Finster, Santa Ana high school cowboy vocalist, sang a group of selections. Paul Cozad, L. D. McDaniel, Arthur Cozad and Mrs. Verona Getz played selections on the harmonica. Mrs. W. J. Cozad gave an outline of the history of the family, said to be one of the largest in this section.

Children Present Program for Club

Entertainment consisting of music and dancing was featured at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club held in Ketter's cafe this morning. Artists were introduced by Barney Koster and Sam Jernigan.

Little Kathryn Hambricht, who was featured in an act in the recent Breakfast club benefit show, sang several selections and performed several dances in costume. She was accompanied at the piano by Art Cannon.

LeRoy Finster, the "Nevada cowboy," who is a student at the local high school, entertained club members and guests with several vocal selections, accompanying himself on the guitar. He sang cowboy and yodeling numbers.

Court Notes

Suit filed in superior court last week by May Hollister against Dr. J. E. Waters, of Anaheim, for possession of two diamond rings, has been settled out of court. It was announced today. The rings were released to the plaintiff by Dr. Waters when he learned that she claimed that the rings had been pledged by her former husband, Lloyd Hollister, as security on indebtedness for dental work, without her knowledge or permission.

THIEVES LOOT LOS ALAMITOS GENERAL STORE

Burglars raided the J. R. Watts general merchandise store at Los Alamitos last night and took clothing, cigars and other articles worth approximately $125, according to a report filed early today at the sheriff's office.

Entrance into the place was made after a window at the rear of the store had been broken out. Among the articles reported stolen were 12 work shirts, 15 cartons of cigars, five watches, 10 pairs of shoes, two pairs of sun glasses, four cans of coffee, one radio receiving set, three fountain pens, two alarm clocks, 24 pocket knives, a flashlight, 36 neckties, a sweater and a five pound ham.

The same store has been burglarized several times within the past several years.

Grand Theft Case Hearing Continued

Due to a breakdown of an automobile bringing witnesses to Santa Ana from Los Angeles early today, the case of Joseph Irving, Long Beach man, charged with grand theft, which was continued in Justice Morrison's court yesterday until today, was not completed at noon today when the noon recess was taken.

Irving is charged with stealing $2700 from Olive M. Shepard, Los Angeles woman, in the sale of a number of her notes which he is alleged to have disposed of in Santa Ana.

RESOURCES OF NATION TOLD IN BROADCAST

Pointing out that America has largest nations in the world and more resources than the next six that the depression has been talked so much that its people fall now to realize this, Judge Reuben T. Walter of Whittier, in an address broadcast from KREG Tuesday night on the B. P. W. club program, declared that it would do much to lift the nation out of the temporary depression if the men and women of the country would count their blessings, or at least admit once in a while, what they have.

The speaker said that a positive and encouraging position can be seen in the development and preservation of the great natural resources of the nation as a means of returning prosperity, as it was from the gifts of the earth that the nation built the first great prosperity and that from this same great fountain that the nation must look with careful eye and serious stewardship for the prosperity of the future.

Since started by Roosevelt, the speaker said, people of the nation have realized the great task of conservation. Previous to that time resources were dispersed with no thought of the future, he said. The speaker decried the policy of the Federal government in giving railroads and other interests huge

Jaycee Beards Tempting To Barbers

Local barbers are casting longing eyes in the direction of the Santa Ana Junior college campus about this time every year.

The occasion is the annual beard-growing contest in which about 40 male members of the associated students indulge every year as a feature of their Fiesta day on May 13. The men have endured their facial growths for nearly six weeks, and as the closing date draws near tonsorial artists are becoming eager in their anticipation of business.

Prizes for the fullest, reddest, fanciest, screwiest and longest beards will be awarded in the afternoon of Fiesta day. Free shaves will also be given, it is announced.

land grants and cited instances where agreements with the government had not been lived up to because the interests that received the grants were bent on reaping large profits from the land.

In the development of potential farmlands from the vast areas of arid lands, it is business of the nation to reclaim and rehabilitate the exhausted farmlands of the east and middle west, he said. Great government projects must be started to recover prosperity, he claimed. Lawmakers should engage in working out a sound policy of utilizing railroad facilities so that systems do not parallel

PROGRAM HELD BY OFFICERS AT SAN CLEMENTE

One of the most successful meetings of the Orange County Peace Officers' association since its organization was held at Travaglini's cafe at San Clemente last night.

A surprise feature which was greatly enjoyed by the members was the presence of the eight-piece marimba band from the Acqua Caliente hotel under the direction of Gabriel Munoz. The band presented numbers during the meal and afterwards. The band was procured by Harry Comber, chief of police of the Spanish Village.

Speakers were B. Z. McKinney, Democratic candidate for congress, who spoke on "Social Progress and Law Enforcement," and L. G. Nattkemper, former police judge of San Clemente, whose topic was "That Something."

McKinney's address urged judicial reforms to make prosecution of crime more "swift and certain."

State courts, McKinney declared, should abolish the practice of reading long, meaningless abstract principles of law to the jury, as instructions, and adopt the federal court plan by which the judge discusses with the jury the law that applies to facts in the case at bar.

A verdict upon vote of three-fourths of the jury was favored by McKinney, who is a Santa Ana lawyer. This would speed justice, and would be safe, with the judge empowered to set aside any improper verdict, he said.

Rigid restriction of the sale of fire arms also was recommended by the speaker, who suggested that possession of a weapon by an accused defendant be made prima facie evidence of guilty intent. McKinney recommended limiting sale of firearms to persons known to the dealer, and the taking of the buyer's finger prints as part of a record to be kept by the dealer.

UNEMPLOYED THEATER GUILD PLAN BENEFIT

Definite plans to stage a benefit play here were made at a joint meeting last night of a special committee composed of members of the Unemployed association of Santa Ana and members of the Little Theaters Guild of Orange county.

While a definite date for the performance has not yet been set, the show will probably be given within the next two weeks.

The play to be presented is "The Speeders," a three act comic farce.

Otis LeRoss, professor of dramatics at Fullerton Junior college, is director of the organization that will produce the play. He played the lead in the original cast of the famous play. The cost will be made up of members of the organization from Santa Ana, Fullerton, Buena Park, Olive, Brea, La Habra and Tustin. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Moose band.

Plans are also being made for a benefit ball game to be played between members of the Santa Ana and Orange associations. Officials said today that there is an immediate need for everything in the way of baseball equipment. The game will be played in the near future at Eddie Martin's airport. Martin has promised to stage an air circus in connection with the ball game.

In addition to the regular articles solicited by the local association such as food, clothing, etc., there is a need now for a wheel chair for an aged crippled woman, local officials announced today in a broadcast from KREG.

Report Drive For Music Association Meeting Success

The first "check-up" meeting of workers and officers of the Civic Music association of Orange county, held last night in the headquarters at 544 North Main street, indicated that the first annual membership drive for charter members is an assured success, according to Clarence Gustin, secretary of the newly formed organization.

Hope was expressed by officials today that the membership quota in the county would reach the 1000 mark before the drive ends at 10 p. m. Saturday.

Committees are active in all the larger towns of the county. Tonight a sectional meeting is to be held at the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce office at 8 o'clock to hear reports and make further plans for workers in the northern part of the county.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor, Register, Sir—

Congratulations to The Register for leading a winning fight against the Sharkey bill, and also for the showing made against Proposition No. 2, another Standard Oil measure.

It speaks wonders when the public, by such overwhelming majorities, endorse and support your stand against these measures as they did in Tuesday's election. Such confidence and such good will are treasures which I am sure will inspire your future efforts on behalf of the public, as against any and all special interests.

I know, as possibly few are in position to know, that the Register lost money by opposing the Sharkey bill; that several hundred dollars worth of advertising favoring the measure was withheld because of your opposition to this special interest legislation, which you would have received had you adopted the prevailing wishy-washy attitude of many other newspapers.

You lost the money, but the vote count was a tribute to your earnestness, your idealism and your sincerity. The people believe in you and the Register, and after all, isn't that worth much more than silver and gold?

Very sincerely yours,

WAYNE GOBLE.

APPROPRIATE $20,000 FOR WORK ON RIVER

In furtherance of its support of the program for extension of the water spreading system on the debris cone under control of the Water Conservation association, the board of supervisors in Riverside Monday confirmed its tentative allocation of $20,000 to match state funds in the work.

The money was appropriated for this flood control and conservation work on the upper Santa Ana river on condition that San Bernardino county appropriate at least $5,000 and the city of Riverside $10,000 for the work, and that will be matched by state funds made available for the work.

Orange county has been asked to join in the program and appropriate $20,000 before June 1 so that the state fund would be available for use this year. This appropriation, however, is not expected to be forthcoming as engineers have advised Orange county would derive little or no benefit from this work.

The work to be done was outlined in a recent report by A. L. Sonderegger and the board of consulting engineers of the Water Conservation association. The plan, however, must first be approved by the state engineer and boards of supervisors of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

FORMATION OF NEW DISTRICT IS AUTHORIZED

Formation of an improvement district to repay property owners for land taken for state improvements already completed on Forster avenue, San Juan-by-the-Sea was authorized yesterday by the board of supervisors.

The board adopted two resolutions in connection with formation of the district. Both resolutions were under the "special assessment investigation of limitations and majority protection act of 1931."

The resolution outlined that the board proposed to acquire 10 feet on each side of Forster avenue between Prior avenue and Mission street. This property is to be acquired from owners of abutting property along the highway. The district formed includes only owners of property in the area from which the land was secured.

The second resolution was for determination that the debt limitation of 50 per cent of the assessed valuation will not be exceeded.

DRIVER ARRAIGNED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

J. A. Barker, Santa Ana man, arrested Monday night after the car he was said to have been driving collided with a machine driven by S. A. Clark, 515 North Artesia street, at First and Sullivan streets, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison yesterday afternoon on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

His preliminary examination was set for May 11 at 9 a. m., and bail was set at $1000, which he has not made.

When first arrested, Barker was booked on charges of failure to stop and render aid after the accident and with carrying a concealed weapon, as well as driving while under the influence of liquor, but the two other charges will not be pressed, it was understood.

OUTLINES SEWAGE PLAN TO COUNCIL

Members of the Orange County Sewage Reclamation committee's sub-committee on contacting district municipalities in the proposed plan to open their campaign Tuesday to secure endorsement of the plan to reclaim 5,000,000 gallons of sewage water now being dumped into the ocean through the joint outfall sewer.

The contact appeared at an informal meeting of the Anaheim city council and asked for a gentlemen's agreement that Anaheim will become a part of the proposed new water conservation district and agree to turn over its sewage and water to the district if formed. The council, however, declined to take immediate action on the project, pending a thorough study of the proposal.

Gets Jail Term For Non-Support

LeRoy Allen Parks, Oskdale, Calif., resident, wanted here for violation of probation in a non-support case, was sent to jail for a period of one year by Justice Kenneth Morrison today when his case was heard. He was returned to Santa Ana several days ago. Parks was given probation on July 28, 1930, on a charge of non support of a minor child on condition that he pay $25 per month for the child's upkeep. When he failed to make the payments he was re-arrested. The court also ordered that he be put to work on the chain gang and that the money made be turned over to the complaining witness, Mrs. Doris Park Mathews, his former wife.

DAVIS, ROOKIE, PUTS FANGS IN DOGILE TIGERS

BY FRANK G. MENKE
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 5.—(INS)—Harry Davis, a 21-year-old first baseman, has put the fangs back into the jaws of the Detroit Tigers, sharpened their claws and their resultant ferocious conduct is the current baseball sensation.

Davis was plucked from out of the Toronto lineup in a desperate gesture at parking somebody around the initial sack who would be an improvement on Dale Alexander. Few men in the game can hit harder or better than Alex, but as a receiver of fives he always has been occasion for sob articles.

Alexander was worse than ever during the spring exhibitions and while Stanley Harris, the manager, was tearing himself loose from his fetlocks in despair over the situation, someone suggested Davis and the kid came on to steady the infield in a remarkable way.

Davis, a left-handed thrower, as well as a southpaw swatter, can dig them out of the earth, snag them from the clouds, get them on either side of him and plays with all the finesse of a veteran. His great work at the sack allows the rest of the infield to take many liberties with their throws, not possible when Alex was around and, as a consequence, the speed of the infield has become sparkling.

At 14, Davis was a bathory for the Shreveport club in the Texas league.

Davis had developed to such an extent at 18 that Johnny Prudden, a former Tiger, then living in Shreveport, recommended him to Toronto. He was a bit too "green" and Toronto sent him under option to Syracuse. When that club gave up its franchise, Davis went to Habeton, in the N. Y. Penn. league. In 1930 Toronto recalled him and he was given the regular first basing job.

Davis hit .314 in the International league last year.

This Week's Schedule
Fullerton at Santa Ana; San Diego at Long Beach; Pasadena at Alhambra; Glendale, bye.

Santa Ana HI completes a disappointing baseball season here tomorrow, battling to keep out of the Coast Preparatory league cellar instead of fighting for first place as predicted at the beginning of the schedule.

Coach Don Cruikshank's Fullerton Reds will be the Saint opponent, and the survivor of the foray will have the doubtful distinction of tying for sixth place in a seven-team race. Like Santa Ana, the Reds have had their troubles this term, spotty pitching being their chief undoing.

The Saints began the race with a veteran team that figured to run one-two if it got the pitching. As he might, Coach Bill Foote was unable to discover that pitching until, worked regularly, "Toy" Blower got good enough to get the boys out. But as soon as Blower found himself, the Saint hitters, who had been murdering all sorts of hurling, suddenly went dead instead of the HI mound staff. Three one-run losses followed in rapid succession, and Saint hopes were dimmer than an owl's eyes.

Coach Foote hopes to wind up the schedule on a day when both pitchers and hitters are "right." Blower, a fast ball pitcher with rapidly improving control, will work against Dave McKinney or Joe Herbert, Cruikshank's Fullerton throwers. The catchers will be Earl Halderman for the Saints, Whitfield for the Reds.

The Saints will make some minor changes in their lineup because Outfielder Marvin Johnston recently became ill and no longer is eligible for prep action. Either Jim Klepper or Bob Wimbush will play Johnston's right field, and "Porkey" Bell will move into left field, replacing Ralph Gordon. Floyd Montgomery will be at first base, Joe Koral second, Captain "Red" Kiddier third and Francis Conrad short. Lloyd Kneeland will patrol midfield.

INVITE PUBLIC TO NET CLUB'S MATCH MAY 28

Lester Stoeften, nationally known star who twice conquered U. S. Champion Ellsworth Vines during the past winter, will head a distinguished group of tennis players to Santa Ana Saturday, May 28, for a series of public exhibitions.

Stoeften and Company will appear in the afternoon on the city's new courts at Frances Willard Junior high school.

Plans for the matches were announced by President Gilmore Ward at a meeting of the Santa Ana Tennis club last night, arrangements being made by the club through its affiliation with the Southern California Tennis association.

Josephine Cruikshank of Santa Ana, No. 12 in national women's rankings and Southern California champion, will be one of the competitors. The others have not been selected but the local club has been assured they also will be first flight players of reputation.

Stoeften is considered the year's most improved player. Ranked No. 15 after 1931 tournament play, the tall Los Angeles tow-head has defeated all comers with monotonous regularity this season. He beat Vines for the Los Angeles City championship, and did it again in the Southern California championships. He took the recent Ojai tournament in stride and yesterday vanquished the celebrated Jack Crawford, champion of Australia, who stopped off in Los Angeles en route to Cuba for Davis Cup matches.

Critics claim Stoeften is a cinch to be ranked among the Big Ten after 1932 eastern play.

President Ward said that no admission would be charged, and that the Santa Ana school board was co-operating with the club to the fullest extent. The board will install "circus seats" for spectators.

The Santa Ana Tennis club this week opens the most ambitious tournament program since its organization two months ago. A team match with Long Beach—eight singles, four doubles, mixed doubles and three women's singles—introducing the program here Sunday.

Randolph Bell, Gil Ward, John Cress, Lewis Wetherell, Don Park, Arno Finster, Eddie West and Bob Kirk are tentatively assigned singles assignments. Doubles combinations are Bell-Cress, Wetherell-Finster, Park-Kirk, Ranney-Marston. Mr. and Mrs. Ward will play mixed doubles with Mildred Ward, Betty Ritchey and Marjorie Laudorbach in women's singles. Play begins at 8 a.m.

Other club events for the month: May 14—Junior tournament, open to all S. A. T. C. juniors without senior ranking.

May 15—Santa Ana vs. San Clemente at Santa Ana.

May 25—Mixed doubles tournament.

May 28—Exhibition matches, sponsored by club.

May 29—Semi-finals and finals of mixed doubles.

STOEFTEN BEATS CRAWFORD, AUSTRALIAN CHAMP

LOS ANGELES, May 5.—(UP)—Lester Stoeften, city champion of Los Angeles, defeated Jack Crawford of the Australian Davis Cup team yesterday, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, in an exhibition tennis match.

The hard courts proved a handicap for Crawford.

RED AND WHITE STORES SCORCH WEBER BAKERS

Santa Ana City league gunmen today "put the finger" on the Red and White stores as one of the teams to beat for the season's baseball championship after what the Grocers did to Weber's bakery at the Bowl last night.

The Red and White men made five runs in the first inning and five more in the second. Then to the further embarrassment of the Bakers, they added eight additional scores in the fifth, for the easiest sort of an 18-3 victory.

Every regular on the winning side got at least one hit, with Lebrucherie and Camp setting the pace with three apiece. Fisher was cannon-balled from the Weber mound during the fifth inning uprising. Coachmen quelling the attack too late.

The Weber-Red and White game was the only one of the evening. A scheduled contest between the A. Service and the J. C. Penney company was postponed until May 13.

Two games are due tonight: Elks vs. Spurgeon M. E. South, 7 p.m.; Green Cat cafe vs. First National bank, 8 p.m.

LONG BEACH, May 5.—(UP)—Washington and Los Angeles Athletic club's women's swimming teams will meet at the Pacific Coast club here tonight in a series of exhibition events, climaxing the National championship matches at Los Angeles.

Helene Madison, Seattle, holder of a majority of the women's world swimming records, and Josephine McKim, Los Angeles, will be the feature performers.

One of the nine women's records Miss Madison does not hold in the 50-yard free-style mark of 27 seconds. She will go after this record tonight.

Another mark sought by the Seattle girls in the 600-yard relay record established by Gertrude Ederle and her New York team seven years ago. The Seattle team will be composed of Miss Madison, Edna McKibbin, Olive Bueley and Dawn Gilson.

The Los Angeles 600-yard team will consist of Olive Hatch, Norene Forbes, Jenny Cramer, Marjorie Lowe, Dorothy Smithson and Josephine McKim.

FULLERTON SECONDS BEAT WILLARD, 7-4

By JACK WALLACE
Making only one error during the entire game, Fullerton high school's second baseball squad defeated Coach Arnold Lund's Francis Willard junior high school "varsity" nine, 7 to 4, here yesterday.

During the first part of the game it looked like "Indian vs. Indian" was going to result in a very close contest. But by the fifth inning, Fullerton's Redskins had smoked the peace pipe long enough, and let loose a barrage of hits, adding four runs to two obtained in the first part of the game.

Willard's warriors, who had made four runs in the first two innings were held scoreless the rest of the way.

CELEBRITIES IN EXHIBITIONS AT COLLEGE TRACK

Riverside, sponsor of the Orange Empire all-conference track and field meet to be held next Saturday morning and afternoon, has prepared a special exhibition of four events in which national under-pole champions will participate.

Henry Lasalle, ineligible U. S. C. high jump star. National champion in 1930, will appear in an exhibition with Max Conrad, 1931 junior national high jump king. Both have cleared 6 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Capable of heights over 13 feet, Vern McDermont, Big Ten pole vault titleholder, will compete against "Ace" Hallett of the Los Angeles Athletic club in another special event.

Two other members of the L. A. A. C., Wendell Smith and Bob Maxwell, will appear in low and high hurdles exhibitions. Smith is a former high hurdles champion of the Southern California conference.

He at one time held the national junior championship in this event. Maxwell, one-time Pomona ace, has been in constant competition for the past seven years, several times winning the 220 barriers at National A. A. U. meets.

Riverside and Santa Ana, by virtue of their splendid dual meet records, loom as favorites Saturday. Coach Bill Cook's Dons, who have expressed confidence that they can trim Riverside in another meet, figure that they are just as good, if not better, than the Tigers. It is believed that Riverside's points, taken mostly in sprints and distances during the 1932 season, will be cut into more than Santa Ana's, derived mainly from the field events.

"If all my men are up to par, we should win," Cook has stated.

Derby Crowd Collects At Downs Track

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—(UP)—Derby hour approached for Louisville today and the vanguard of the great throng which will circle Churchill Downs Saturday for the running of the great American horse race classic started arriving.

Race talk increased. For the first time in many years there was no outstanding favorite today as the various three-year-olds were put through their final paces for the 10 furlong race Saturday afternoon. There was east-west division sentiment cropping up as the possible entries are almost equally divided sectionally, with Kentucky turning to the entries of Col. E. R. Bradley, hoping that the blue grass country again would return a winner.

Universe, which won the Wood Memorial stakes at Jamaica, last Saturday, wrenched the coffin joint of his left foreleg yesterday. A definite decision will be made today whether the horse will be able to race Saturday.

ADVANTAGE IN WEIGHT MAKES 'BUD' FAVORITE

Now that he has fully recovered from hand injuries that shelved him two months, how well can Orange's "Bud" McCarter fight? Delhi boxing fans, always inquisitive, want an answer to that question. They should be accommodated tonight when McCarter meets Henry Pena, Olympic main-eventer, at Elmer Willson's southside arena.

Conqueror of most of the other leading Southland light heavyweights and still to be knocked off his feet for the first time, Pena figures to extend the Orange high school sensation, perhaps give "Bud" his first beating. With the possible exception of John Elfinger, no amateur has yet been able to give McCarter more than a mild workout.

Representing the Pico Athletic club, Pena comes here recommended as an aggressive miller with a pretty good punch. He hit hard enough at Ingwood last Friday to floor twice Bert Collins's widely advertised protégé, Mike O'Gara, and was clever enough to stick the limit with Del Smith, Pasadena's "champion" of the division.

Observers would be willing to risk picking Pena to win were it not for the six or eight pounds he'll spot the long-armed McCarter. "Bud" will come in at 166, according to his handlers. That is several pounds off his usual tonnage. Pena will weigh 160. The disadvantage is not great for a three-round engagement, but it may decide the fight.

"Red" Mandott (Lloyd Manderscheid) and Pat Savage mingle in the semi-final at 160 pounds. This will be Manderscheid's first local appearance in more than a year. Savage is on the Pico "team" that makes up the bulk of the outside contestants.

Undefeated Doyle Richards catches up with a tough one in Kid Sierra in the special event, a 160-pound set-to. This one is a re-match, the boys having pleased the customers immensely last week when Richards' strong finish caught the eyes of the Delhi judiciary.

Nat Mills and Manuel Martinez, lightweights, are in the No. 7 spot. They've both main-evented other cards.

Bill Perry, Anaheim welter, is bracketed with Jack Lujan, last week's main-eventer at the Olympic in Los Angeles.

Other bouts: Vic Orosco vs. Joe Urias, 135 pounds; Bal Sal Solis vs. Roy Ferris, 122 pounds; John Orosco vs. Ralph Montoya, 128 pounds; Pete Torres vs. Roy Virgil, 125 pounds; Kenny Brown vs. Everett McDonald, 138 pounds.

Sewage Reclamation Plan Outlined For Council

SPEAKER SAYS WATER NEEDED FOR IRRIGATION

ORANGE, May 5.—A committee including officials of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company and of the Anaheim Water company, R. D. Flaherty, secretary-manager of the Farm Bureau, and Ralph McFadden met with members of the city council yesterday to place before them a plan for the reclamation of sewage water. Mr. McFadden outlined the proposed district where the water is to be reclaimed and answered questions of the council. McFadden stated that it was not expected that the council would take any action on the matter but that the approval of the four city councils, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Orange and Fullerton, was wanted for the project, which he declared would save more water in the underground basin, which is 35,000 acre feet annually.

That the water can be saved and used for irrigation purposes cheaper than Metropolitan water can be introduced, was a statement made by the speaker, who pointed out that more water must be available before the end of the eight years when that of the Metropolitan water district would be ready for use.

The water is treated, while not fit for domestic purposes, McFadden said, is not offensive and is suitable for irrigation. During the six months when water is not needed the surplus could be spread and would be filtered through sand and gravelly strata and would find its way back to the underground basin, the speaker said.

The spreading ground proposed would lie near Anaheim on the Santa Fe tract south of North street, he said, where spreading beds could be established on soil which is particularly porous and sand. It is thought that nearly all of the water would go to supplement that of the underground basin, he said.

The water saved would be a steady flow of 450 inches a day, McFadden said, while water taken for irrigation purposes would amount to 4500 inches daily for a period of six months.

McFadden explained that the matter of establishing a plant for saving the water would come up to the people for decision at an election.

Man's Glue Failed To Stick, Claim

ORANGE, May 5.—Police yesterday were asked to be on the lookout for a man who was described as a high-powered salesman who, while claiming that glue he was offering for sale would cause any materials to stick together, himself failed to stick to the truth. Residents of the city complained that the man appeared at their doors and demonstrated the effectiveness of the glue by pasting together two sheets of glazed paper.

The salesman took a cake of glue from his pocket and used it in demonstrating. He had similar appearing cakes of glue pasted on a cardboard which he sold at 25 cents for a small square. According to reports to the police, purchasers found that the glue they had bought had none of the magic qualities of that demonstrated and was in fact an inferior quality of adhesive.

NEW OFFICERS SELECTED FOR CLUB SECTION

ORANGE, May 5.—Officers of First Economics section of the Orange Woman's club were elected at a meeting held Tuesday in the clubhouse lobby. Newly elected officers are: President, Mrs. C. W. Coffey; vice president, Miss Harriet Corson; secretary, Mrs. W. H. Lowry. Outgoing officers are, president, Mrs. W. B. Nichols; vice president, Mrs. Alfred Leech, and secretary and treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Lowry.

Hostesses for the day were Mesdames Sherman Gillogly, C. L. Benson, M. E. Livingston and E. S. W. Condon. Luncheon was served on individual trays and a springtime motif was carried out in pastel tints. May baskets held tiny flowers and a Maypole with dancing dolls around it was placed in the lobby. A profusion of flowers accentuated the May day atmosphere.

In keeping with the occasion was the roll call when members gave the meanings attached to flowers. Miss Helen Gillogly gave an interesting paper on "Gardens," and musical numbers were given by Miss Virginia Lee Harper, piano, Miss Dorothy Rossiter, cello, and Miss Katherine Fern Summer, violin. Russian costumes were worn by the trio of young girls in playing the music of this country. The trio is directed by Mrs. George Swift Harper.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of saline mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing in their power to make the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. See at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

CITY COUNCIL URGED TO GIVE JOBLESS WORK

ORANGE, May 5.—Harry Lenderman, chairman of the Unemployment association, appeared before the Orange city council yesterday and asked that the license fee be eliminated when the group stages a dance at the American Legion hall on May 12. The music and hall are to be donated to the association for the occasion, the chairman stated. The request was granted.

Lenderman called attention to the fact that members of the association soliciting work, food or clothing have credentials signed by himself and the secretary. He explained that other persons, new residents here, are using the association's name in trying to obtain aid.

The speaker urged the city council to try to find some sort of work which might be given to the unemployed of the city. He stated that more than 180 men were registered for work at the headquarters of the association on South Grand street.

The ordinance regulating dog licenses was up for second reading and was adopted.

Mayor Clyde Watson told council members that the civic beautification program instigated by the Orange Woman's club could not be carried on unless more zinnia plants were purchased to replace those which had been planted and which had died after being planted. The ground is now ready for the plants. It was stated. It was voted to buy $30 worth of young plants to replace the others.

Plants are to be set out on Glassell street and Chapman avenue. The city clerk was instructed to write a letter to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion and the city council, thanking these organizations for courtesies at the opening of the Santa Ana bowl.

The Bell Canteen club of the Santa Ana telephone office, which includes 15 girls, sang. The girls were directed by Earl Waycott.

Do you inhale?

"Why bring that up?" —the cigarette trade asks!

FOR years there has been generally a striking avoidance of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it has solved the problem! It gives you the protection you want...because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

"Fifty million smokers can't be wrong!" So whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly—safeguard your delicate membranes!

BEGIN DRIVE IN OHIO FOR CLEANER FILMS

The Orange County Better Films association board of directors will meet this evening at the First Methodist church of Fullerton for further plans for the development of its campaign for clean movies in Orange county theaters. W. A. Taylor, temporary chairman, and C. G. Dowds, secretary, have issued the call which is expected to bring together some 45 representative men and women who are enlisted in the movement.

In this connection, considerable interest is attached to a news dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, which states that the Ohio Council of Churches has started a campaign "to take the cocktail, the speakeasy and the bedroom scene out of the movies." Rev. B. F. Lamb, executive secretary of the council, has called upon church people all over the state to join in a fight for rigid censorship of the powerful influence of the pictures.

Motion picture censors under the direction of Dr. Beverly Skinner, state director of education, have eliminated much objectionable material, but in spite of their efforts a great deal that is undesirable is being shown according to the statement of the Rev. Mr. Lamb.

The Ohio Council has three purposes in its campaign. First, to prevent repeal or weakening of the censorship law; second, to back up the censors in cutting objectionable pictures and scenes; and third, to educate the public for better discrimination in the choice of films.

Principal eliminations made by the Ohio censors are summarized under the headings of indecency, vulgarity, nudity, bedroom scenes, suggestive dialogue, profanity, irreverence, brutality, crimes and liquor selling.

Woman's Club To Sponsor Library

Money for the purchase of books has been donated by Mrs. Ed Edwards, Mrs. George Holstein, of Port Huron; Mrs. M. E. Hayman and Mrs. R. W. Fowler, of New York, guests of the Edwards-Smith-Gallagher-Lewis home.

The club staged a covered dish luncheon at the Social club on Tuesday afternoon. After a business session chorus practice was held. It was reported by Mrs. Art Adair that all patients in the San Clemente Community hospital were given bouquets of flowers on May day.

STOMACH ACHES IN GERMANY MAY PROVE BIG BOOST FOR CALIFORNIA CITRUS GROWERS

Good old-fashioned stomach trouble may pave the way to prosperity for California fruit growers, according to Pearson Henderson, California trade commissioner in Europe, in a recent report to Sacramento, released today.

This paradoxical condition is particularly in evidence in Germany, according to Henderson's report to the state bureau of commerce.

Changes in diet forced through unsettled economic conditions have resulted in stomach disorders to such an extent that physicians are prescribing a fresh fruit diet for breakfast, supplanting the long-established continental meal of rolls and jam, Henderson claims. "Alert restaurateurs in keeping pace with national changes have for the first time, listed orange juice on their menus. In the past orange juice has had as much place on the breakfast menu as pickles on an American first-meal menu," Henderson said.

As evidence showing the trend toward greater fruit consumption in Germany, the 1931 import figures show an increase despite economic conditions while other nations decreased imports materially, the bureau reports.

Drastic control of foreign securities through the Reichsbank by the German government, however, will present serious problems to fresh fruit exporters to Germany this year, Henderson reported.

SCHOOL BOARD AT COSTA MESA CUTS SALARIES

COSTA MESA, May 5.—John F. Webster, new member of the elementary school board, was elected to serve as president of the board at a special called meeting held at the schoolhouse this week, and Fred W. Opp became school clerk.

County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson gave facts and figures relative to school taxes and incomes. Several local taxpayers were among those present.

The board established a maximum and minimum salary for teachers for the coming school year, which represented a 10 per cent cut, with a graduated scale downward, the came to take effect at the opening of the fall term.

The board has tentatively agreed but not officially so, to make a cut in the budget for the coming year, which will result in a saving to local taxpayers of approximately $400, over and above the amount spent this last year.

In order to further curtail expenses for the coming year it has been deemed necessary to eliminate a large percentage of the present bus service. Plans have not yet been perfected as to routes affected.

It is expected that a sixth grade class will be added to the Lindbergh school next year.

Cypress Center Plans Program

CYPRESS, May 5.—The Cypress Farm center has arranged a program for its meeting Friday night at LaRue hall, starting with a 6:30 o'clock pot luck dinner. J. J. Denno, director to the county farm bureau board, will give a report, it is announced by Joe Ritter, president.

REPLANT BEANS

TALBERT, May 5.—Replanting of beans in several local fields is under way, this added work being made necessary by the recent heavy wind, which played havoc with the young beans of the early crops, which had just appeared above ground. Fred Pope is replanting 50 acres. J. Pavan and Earl Campbell also are replanting. It may be found necessary for still others to replant on account of the wind damage or the cut worms.

CONDITIONS IN STATE SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 5.—(UP)—Economic conditions in California are improving according to reports just submitted by members of the governor's council.

The division of state employment agencies reported 5655 placements last month as compared to 4855 the previous month, to bring the total number of jobs found since July 1, 1930 to 174,908.

"Records in the division of corporations for the past several years indicate that March is the banner month and thus far in 1932 the month which ushers in the spring season in California apparently brought an increased volume of new business, as well as setting a high mark for the amount of business handled," Edwin M. Daugherty, state director of investment said.

"Not only was March the best month of the year, with a total of 622 applications, but it is of note that it was the largest month in new business during the half-year period since last October when there were 554 applications.

"In many respects, the report for March has set a mark for 1932 and may indicate a trend which has many encouraging aspects and is hoped will prove to be the beginning of a definite upward curve in business."

The department of agriculture also reports an improved outlook, particularly for growers of fruits and vegetables.

"In general, the entire line of fruits and vegetables seemed to hold a stronger market position than for many weeks, and growers were encouraged by the more favorable returns," the report said.

YOUNG BOY HURT

SPRINGDALE, May 5.—Bobbie Shonle, young son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shonle sustained two severe injuries this week. First, the little boy had one finger crushed between a piece of metal and a stick with which he was playing and later a deep gash, more than an inch long, was cut on another finger by the boy in handling a butcher knife.

LIGHT OPERA FINE PROGRAM MARKS CLOSE ARRANGED FOR OF MUSIC WEEK CIRCUS TONIGHT

One of the finest of the popular modern comic operas will be presented to audiences of this part of Southern California tomorrow and Saturday nights when the combined music departments of the Santa Ana Junior college and high school give the musical "Princess of Pilsen" as Santa Ana's observance of Music Week. The production is directed by Miss Myrtle Martin, head of the music department at the Junior college.

Besides the nine principals in the cast, a chorus of 100 mixed voices will be used in the ensemble numbers and interspersed with the flashy dance routines, which are under the direction of Miss Zena Leck of the physical education department, from the background of the production. A full orchestra will be in the pit to carry the swinging melodies through two tuneful acts of comedy and song.

Story of Play
The story concerns a Cincinnati brewer, Hans Wagner, who is touring Europe with his son and daughter and is mistaken at the Hotel Internationale in Nice for the Prince of Pilsen. The real prince appears on the scene and falls in love with the daughter and complications at once arise which are made more puzzling by the love affair of Wagner himself with a dashing American widow who is in turn, admired by the title English nobleman, Artie.

Tom Wagner, the son, meets and continues an acquaintance with an American college girl whom he knew in this country, and this also is much to the distaste of his father.

Mark Hare, who plays the prince, and Simeon Tolle, who enacts the part of Artie, were members of the junior college quartette last year which was taken for concert work on a tour to Chicago. Martin Bowman, prominent singer at the college, takes the comedy part of Hans Wagner, and Vera Heim and Paul Allen are seen as his son and daughter. Other leads in the production are Hazel Stuckey, who plays the American widow, William McCormack as Francois, Agnes McKinty as Sidonie, Jimmie Quigley as Jimmie, and Jean Baldwin as Edith, Tom's sweetheart.

Robert Brown, well known Santa Ana soloist, made the supporting statement today urging support of the production by the public.

Urges Support
"The Santa Ana Junior college and high school, through the able leadership of Miss Martin, are about to give the well known light opera, "The Princess of Pilsen," on Friday and Saturday nights.

"Having played in this production in the past and having seen the Orange County Choral union give a very artistic production, it is needless to comment further on this. I assure you that this coming production should be one of the finest evening's entertainment this community has had for many years. Miss Martin has drilled the students of the music department up to a very fine point and their ensemble work and chorus stand out as a part of the artistic production this will undoubtedly be.

"Santa Ana should support this to the limit."

With the expectation of accommodating a large crowd at the opening performance of the annual Y. M. C. A. circus which opens at the local "Y" building tonight, definite arrangements have been made to provide speedy access to the scene of the big show through the admission gates, where every person that enters must be weighed in order to determine how much admission shall be paid.

The plan is to charge admission at the rate of one cent for each 10 pounds, or fraction thereof, for all persons who weigh between 50 and 200 pounds. The admission price for a person weighing 100 pounds would be 10 cents. The price was incorrectly stated recently as one cent per pound, though error, whereas it really is one cent for 10 pounds.

"This plan has been adopted in order to call attention in a forceful manner to the importance of weight correction, and to emphasize the service of our local Y. M. C. A. in helping to correct both overweight and underweight cases," Secretary R. C. Smedley said today. "Children and others of light weight will be admitted free, up to 50 pounds. Heavyweights, as a special inducement and as a mark of sympathy, will be admitted free if their weight is over 200 pounds.

Of course we bar the practice of carrying weights, bricks or other impediments in the pockets."

Doors to the show will swing open at 7:30 p. m. and the show will start promptly at 8 p. m. The circus will be participated in by about 200 men and boys, members of the gymnasium classes, who will demonstrate the sort of work given them in the regular classes. Following is the complete program, released today for the first time:

- 1.—The Grand Parade, by all performers.
- 2.—Highland Fling, by senior class.
- 3.—Riding the Rollers, by boys' class.
- 4.—Maze March, by boys' class.
- 5.—Boy Tumbler.
- 6.—Demonstration of juggling, sharpshooting and slackwire, by N. T. Burgess and son.
- 7.—High Bar, by Scott, Van Dien, Gaebie and Russick.
- 8.—The Right and Wrong of Weight Reduction.
- 9.—The Fireflies, by the senior class.
- 10.—The Tumbling Twins, Van Dien and Garland.
- 11.—The Flying Rings.
- 12.—Spring Board Demonstration and Parallel Bar.
- 13.—Pyramids.

The program is staged under the direction of R. R. Russick, physical director, assisted by Edward Gaebie. Fred Cartwright is the accompanist.

Doors open at 7:30, and performance begins at 8.

Club May Donate Land To City As Site for Library

LA HABRA, May 5.—At a special called meeting of the Woman's club, the question of donating for library purposes a portion of the clubhouse land was discussed.

Attorney Harold McCabe was present and explained the legal status of establishing a library district within the city, of the taxes that would be levied for such and the legal aspect of giving a library site to the city and what would have to be done before the city could build on the lot. He said that one district would have to be formed within the city and that outlying districts would be admitted but would have to pay a certain proportion of the expense.

Judge F. D. Halm and R. F. Franz of the La Habra Kiwanis club were present and gave short talks.

Club May Donate Land To City As Site for Library
LA HABRA, May 5.—At a special called meeting of the Woman's club, the question of donating for library purposes a portion of the clubhouse land was discussed.

Attorney Harold McCabe was present and explained the legal status of establishing a library district within the city, of the taxes that would be levied for such and the legal aspect of giving a library site to the city and what would have to be done before the city could build on the lot. He said that one district would have to be formed within the city and that outlying districts would be admitted but would have to pay a certain proportion of the expense.

Judge F. D. Halm and R. F. Franz of the La Habra Kiwanis club were present and gave short talks.

DRUNKENNESS ON DECREASE HERE RECORDS SHOW

Drunkness in Santa Ana has decreased and the reason for it, in the opinion of the Santa Ana police, is the fact that the number of arrests made for possession of liquor (the ridding of the bootlegger) has increased, according to figures released today by F. W. Howard, chief of police.

The records show that in 1930 361 persons were arrested for drunkenness but in 1931 there were only 303 such arrests made.

During 1930 police arrested 47 persons charged with possession or sale of liquor, while in 1931 85 persons were arrested on one or the other of the two charges.

The police department during 1931 also arrested 55 persons for driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor, the report shows.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTS

WESTMINSTER, May 5.—The first meeting of directors of the Westminster school board with Matt Cochran as one of the body was held Tuesday in regard to the issuing of contracts to teachers of the two local schools. No decision was reached in regard to teachers and it is expected that it will be the first of the week before the contracts are presented. The group elected officers for the year, the two holdover trustees, Armand Hell and Clyde Day going in as president and clerk of the board, respectively.

BUILDERS OF SOUTHLAND TO MEET FRIDAY

Glen Rice and his famous Beverly Hill Billies will provide the musical and entertainment program for the annual meeting of the Builders' Exchange Conference of Southern California which is to be held jointly with the regular monthly membership meeting of the Orange County Builders' Exchange to be held tomorrow night in the American Legion clubhouse in Orange. Delegates from all Southern California are to be present at the affair.

Particular attention was called to the fact that the meeting, which starts with a dinner, will begin at 6 p. m. instead of 5:30 p. m. as is usual. The time was changed in order to provide sufficient time for dancing and cards following the meeting. It was announced by Frederic Sanford, county and state secretary.

Walter Sorenson, past president of the Orange County Builders' Exchange, is president of the Southern California Conference, and will preside at the business session. All the time of the business session will be given over to business of the Conference, which includes election of officers and discussions on a standard wage scale, amendments to the state contractors' license law and other important topics.

Wives and sweethearts of members will be honored guests of the evening. Residents of the county who are interested in the building industry but who are not members of the building organization, were today invited to attend the meeting by local officers. They were asked, however, to make reservations at the local headquarters.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

BUENA PARK, May 5.—Samuel Ingwersen was honored with a birthday party recently when friends gathered at his home for the evening. Cards were played. Those attending were Mesdames George Folckemer, C. C. Jarvie, A. F. Ball, Catherine Wall, Dorothy Woods, C. F. Gordon, Leland Gordon, W. Griffith and Mrs. Frank Schweitzer, vice president of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Mathews and daughter, Esther, spent the week end at Mojave.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutliff and daughter, Geraldine, of Oilfields, Calif., visited relatives here recently. H. D. Kolb, who is working in Oilfields, accompanied the Sutliffs and visited his family.

Bread Prices Boosted To Former Levels

The price of the "staff of life" assumed normal proportions in Santa Ana and Orange county today as the bread war ended and prices returned to former levels, according to a check made among independent and chain stores. The boost was made following an agreement among bakers, it is reported.

Regular, advertised brands of bread today were selling at 8 cents for a pound loaf, the regular price, with pound and a half loaves selling at 10 cents. Some few chain stores were selling bread at 5 and 7 cents a loaf for the pound loaf. These prices, however, were effective only on brands of bread baked by the chain store bakeries and retailed through their own stores. During the recent war prices got down as low as three cents a loaf, and other bakery merchandise was given with bread in other cases.

MOROSCO WILL SPEAK HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

A new organization, specifically directed toward investigation of governmental affairs on behalf of the general public, and bringing those facts to the attention of taxpayers and voters, came into being yesterday following a meeting at the Santa Ana cafe, according to J. A. Vye, of Fullerton, president of the new group.

The next meeting will be held tomorrow evening at the Santa Ana cafe, which will be addressed by A. H. Morosco, tax counselor of the California Taxpayers association, of Los Angeles. The public is invited to the meeting. Dinner will be held at 6:30 p. m. with an open meeting at 7:30 o'clock devoted to discussion of taxation matters. Those not wishing to attend the dinner may participate in the ensuing meeting. President Vye pointed out.

Officers of the organization designated as the Orange County Taxpayers and Voters association, besides President Vye, are as follows: vice president, Steele Finley of Santa Ana; vice president, W. C. Spencer of Costa Mesa; secretary, R. W. Ramsey of Anaheim; treasurer, Wilfred Taylor of Santa Ana; director, Ole Hanson of San Clemente.

Additional directors, representing other portions of the county, will be chosen at a later meeting, and a campaign for members inaugurated, crystallizing the widespread sentiment for retrenchment in government and reductions in taxes.

The new association is non-political, various speakers pointed out at the meeting yesterday, for the purpose of ascertaining facts regarding tax matters and disseminating this information to the public, at the same time co-operating with public officials to bring about needed reforms and changes.

President of the state association will preside at the convention, the program for which includes talks by prominent osteopathic physicians and surgeons throughout the state.

3000 Feet Pipe Laid By Workers On Brea System

BREA, May 5.—At the city council meeting last evening it was reported that 3000 feet of pipe had been laid on the water system and work was progressing as well as could be expected considering that in many cases the workmen were unaccustomed to this kind of work. Fifty men are being employed.

The matter of keeping the Brea municipal plunge clean came under discussion and it was decided to purchase a new piece of suction hose 50 feet in length and that some other changes be made to benefit the plunge.

The portable stop signs which are placed on the street are to be removed after 5 o'clock and during school vacation.

Following a suggestion of Engineer R. W. Phelps, it was decided to make a map of the streets so that the new water pipes could be more easily located in case repairs should be made in the future.

CINCO DE MAYO FIESTA TO BE HEARD ON KREG

Part of the celebration of Cinco de Mayo, May fifth, Mexico's Independence day, scheduled for Santa Ana tonight will be broadcast over radio KREG. This celebration will be as colorful and picturesque as is possible in keeping with the spirit of the day.

One of the two high points in Mexican history the Cinco de Mayo celebration in that country always is marked by one of the most colorful fiestas of the year. Mexican people living in Santa Ana have planned to celebrate the event with an appropriate program to be climaxed in the evening with a big dance.

The dance climaxed the celebration will be held in K. P. hall and will offer in addition to delightful dance music by a native orchestra some outstanding Mexican entertainers and musicians. An elaborate program featuring these artists has been arranged and will be broadcast over the radio for one hour starting at 9 o'clock. This entertainment will be presented during the hour set aside for the Spanish program.

J. C. STUDENT BODY LEADER TO SPEAK

Presenting Dante Siracusa, president of Santa Ana J. C. Association Students, as the featured speaker of the evening the Santa Ana Junior College will go on the air over KREG at 6:45 this evening with another of a series of radio programs.

Siracusa will talk on the annual Junior College Fiesta and events that go to make up this traditional Old California gala day which will be presented this year on Friday, May 13.

The Fiesta is an annual presentation put on as an attraction to the graduating students of the several Orange county high schools. In the past this day has been so successful as to attract national publicity.

Musical numbers on this evening's program will be drawn from the various activities now going on at the college and will present selections by college musical organizations.

The regular Friday evening Jaycee radio program will not be presented this week owing to the presentation at the school of the light opera, "The Prince of Pilsen," which is being put on this Friday and Saturday in the high school auditorium.

KREG NOTES

Time for the program broadcast by "The Friendly Troubadour," sponsored by Montgomery Ward and company has been changed for tonight only. He will be on the air at 7 p. m. instead of the usual time of 7:45 p. m.

Chick Hayfe, recently sold to the Cincinnati Reds by the St. Louis Cardinals will be featured tomorrow at 3:30 in the baseball broadcast. In addition to a sketch of Hayfe's life latest doings in the major leagues will be outlined.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Classic music, ranging from the impressionistic melodies of Debussy's "Afternoon of a Faun" to the descriptive themes of Wagner's "Entrance of the Gods into Valhalla," will be presented by Alfred Hertz and a specially organized symphony orchestra during the Standard Symphony Hour to be broadcast by NBC network stations including KFI from 8:15 to 9:15 o'clock tonight. Hertz has chosen for his first number the dramatic overture which Beethoven composed together with other incidental music for Goethe's famous tragedy of "Egmont." Mozart's Symphony in E flat, one of 49 which the short-lived yet prolific composer wrote, will be played following the Beethoven work. The program also includes an exotic "Danse Piedmontaise" by Sinigaglia, the sensuous, imaginative "Afternoon of a Faun" by Debussy, and the magnificent, impressive closing music of Wagner's first "Ring" opera, "Das Rheingold."

Angelo Patri's talk to parents entitled "Time Out," to be heard over the Columbia network including KHJ from 5:45 to 6 o'clock today, will be directly concerned with mothers rather than with the children themselves. At this time he will point out the necessity for mothers to take regular rest and recreation from the cares of maintaining a household and bringing up a family, as well as explaining how it can be done, in answer to those who complain, "But I just haven't got the time."

SPEEDING PROCESS
SAN FRANCISCO — (Up)—Ice cream, which must be "aged" like whiskey, may be turned into a finished product by only 4 hours' ageing instead of 24 as in former years, says Dr. J. C. Geiger.

Woman's Club Presents Outstanding Music Entertainment

Santa Ana Woman's club members yesterday heard related the strange history of a violin, as asserted by its owner, Vladimir Lenski, to have been constructed in 1515, and to belong to a school of violin makers ante-dating the renowned period of the Amatis and Stradivari.

Mr. Lenski, guest artist with Marion Nelson of Costa Mesa, gifted piano student of Mrs. Belle Greshner of that city, captivated his audience with a fascinating account of the violin's earliest history; of the separation of its component parts when its back was removed and treasured separately for the picture fashioned thereon by myriad bits of wood; of the instrument's subsequent discovery, bit by bit, in second hand stores of Europe; of its reconstruction and of its succession of owners before it came into the Santa Ana's possession.

Works Enjoyed

The violin's background, as described by Mr. Lenski, lent significance to the selections which he chose to include in yesterday's program, these numbers embracing such recognized works as "Appassionata" by the French master, Vioutemps, who composed exclusively for the violin; "Mazurka," the work of Musin, a second French composer of renown; "Legende" by the Polish musician, Wieniawski, and as an encore, Kreisler's familiar "Rosary." The earlier selections in particular, offered the artist opportunity to demonstrate his technical ability, the numbers being played with a gusto which suited their vigorous mood. Kreisler's "Rosary" provided a soothing contrast to its more dazzling predecessors but was played with equal feeling. Mr. Lenski had the able accompaniment of Mrs. Greshner.

Earlier on the program Miss Nelson delighted with her competent renditions of two Chopin works, "Valse B Minor" and "Valse D Flat Major," her handling of these compositions proving so pleasing that she was compelled to return for an encore, Morrison's "Meditation," which she interpreted adeptly.

Program Head Praised

Mrs. A. P. Nelson, program chairman for the afternoon, was congratulated by the president, Mrs. J. D. Watkins, and by her fellow members for her fortune in obtaining a musical program of yesterday's caliber, and the women took advantage of Mr. Lenski's offer to inspect his violin at closer range after the entertainment.

Mrs. Watkins, who presided graciously, read the poem, "To Be Alive" from the program of the recent county federation meeting, as an opening at the meeting in the Y. W. C. A. room which followed a luncheon held in the Doris-Kathryn Tea Shoppe, under her supervision.

A report on the county conference was given by Mrs. E. C. Wilson, while further business included decision to adopt another soldier at the San Fernando hospital, the veteran for whom the club previously had provided, having received a pension.

Social Section

Members of the Social section of Santa Ana Woman's club held an enjoyable time Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. H. Tompkins, 711 South Sycamore street. Mrs. Tompkins was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Leonora Tompkins.

Both bridge and anagrams were played, with Mrs. C. C. Oakes winning the prize in the first game and Mrs. J. D. Watkins in the second.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. Scarlet roses were used in decorating.

A Group of members, Mrs. William Whitehead, Mrs. J. D. Watkins, Mrs. Frank E. and Mrs. C. C. Oakes were in Los Angeles today attending the Woman's club convention of California federation.

"Life In Japan" Topic For Club

LA HABRA, May 5.—Mrs. Herbert Eller was hostess to the Wednesday Morning Study club of the Woman's club at her home Wednesday morning.

Mrs. George Soule was leader and Mrs. John W. Smith read a paper on "Life In Japan." Mrs. O. T. Stephens will entertain at the next meeting of the club at her home on May 15 with Mrs. Herbert Eller as leader. The lesson subject will be "What Makes Income Come In."

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

NO PADLOCK ON THE COOKIE JAR

A reader, and I think she must be a mother who has school lunches to put up, has asked me to repeat the recipe for Fruit Cookies, printed some time ago. I am glad that someone else has tried them and found how very good they are.

When I make them I have to hunt a new hiding place for them every day. I would be sorely tempted to buy a padlock for the cookie box if it were not for the looks of the thing . . . and the howls that would go up if I did so!

But, seriously speaking, cookies like this are far better for children than candy—so we'll not lock up the cookie-box.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Fruit Cookies

- 1 Cup of butter or vegetable shortening
- 1 1-2 cups sugar
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup currents
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 cup of walnuts
- 3 cups of flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 2 tablespoons hot water

These cookies are the ideal school-lunch sweet, easy to make, improve with age and are valuable because of the tonic effect and natural sugar contained in the fruit. What more can you ask of any recipe?

Either butter or your favorite vegetable substitute may be used. If vegetable shortening is your choice add a spoonful of salt to the list of ingredients.

A cup of butter is two of the four wrapped packages in a pound of butter.

Add the salt and cinnamon to the sugar and cream with the shortening in a warmed bowl. When this is done push the creamed mass to one side of the bowl, break in the eggs and beat well, gradually working the creamed sugar into the eggs, beating to a smooth consistency.

Divide the soda in the two tablespoons of hot water, add to the contents of the bowl, mix thoroughly. Measure the flour after sifting twice; reserve a quarter-cup to flour the fruit.

When two-thirds of the flour has been worked into the creamed mixture, mix in the floured currants and raisins. The nut meats are broken in large pieces and added also. If the batter will take up any more flour, use what is left from the fruit.

Care must attend the baking of the cookies; a large shallow pan, buttered, and a medium oven watched and the heat lowered if the cookies bake too fast. Drop by spoonful and save a space of two inches between the cookies.

This quantity will make about three dozen cookies. A dab of frosting improves them, but isn't necessary.

Each cookie has 100 calories tied up in its compact little body, and these are the kind of calories youngsters need to meet the tremendous calls on their bodies through play.

I wonder if you know just how good Pepper Relish is with roast pork? I am quite sure you don't, so I am inviting you to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope this week so that I can send you a copy of the PEPPER RELISH AND MUSHROOM CATSUP leaflet.

Tomorrow we will have Spanish Ham—a good way to use up leftovers.

WARNER BAXTER WILL LIKED IN NEW PICTURE

In a role equally as romantic as his immortal screen characterization, "The Cisco Kid" and as heart-stirring as his "Daddy Long Legs" portrayal, Warner Baxter delighted a large audience last night at the Fox Broadway theater, where his new picture, "Amateur Daddy" had its first local showing.

There is an intangible something about this sterling actor which makes him as fascinating in a dust-covered sombrero as in a silk topper and without the aid of either in his current production he gives a performance that will long be remembered.

His role is that of a construction engineer, who, upon the death of a workman in an accident for which he is partly responsible, takes it upon himself to care for the man's family.

John Blystone, the director, has successfully captured the rich humor and innate humanness of the story, which is based upon Mildred Cram's novel, "Scotch Valley," and Baxter is admirably supported by a cast, which in addition to Miss Nixon, includes Rita LaRoy, William Pawley, David Landau and Clarence Wilson, as well as four of Hollywood's most capable child players, Joe Hachey, Gail Kornfeld, Joan Breslaw and Frankie Darro.

William Powell amazed and delighted patrons of Walker State theater last night in "High Pressure," his second Warner Bros. and Vitaphone starring vehicle, by a cyclonic comedy characterization, utterly at variance with the melodramatic roles which have made him famous.

Recognized as a past master, not only in the portrayal of suave men of the world, but of sudden derelicts—Mr. Powell, as the Gar Evans of "High Pressure," is given a chance to play both dandy and down-and-out, but this resemblance applies to externals only. The capable cast includes Evelyn Brent, George Sidney, John Wray, Guy Kibbee, Evelyn Knapp, Polly Walters, Frank McHugh, Luis Alberni, Ben Alexander, Harold Walbridge and a host of picturesque extra characters.

Don't miss Bill Powell in uproarious "High Pressure."

MCLAGLEN AND O'BRIEN CAST IN NEW FILM

El Coyote is the central figure in "The Gay Caballero," Tom Gill's romantic adventure of the present day border country which Fox Films have produced with George O'Brien, Victor McLaglen and Conchita Montenegro in the leading roles. Around the exploits of this mysterious rider revolve the strange and gripping dramatic incidents that compose the picture, opening tomorrow at the Fox West Coast theater.

George O'Brien, as a college graduate fresh from gridiron triumphs, arrives in Arizona to find Victor McLaglen carefully managing what is left of his father's once great holdings. To his surprise, he discovers that instead of falling heir to a fortune he has inherited a fight against the might of a Mexican land baron, portrayed by C. Henry Gordon, who seeks to bring all that section of the country under his ruthless, brutal control.

How he manages various difficult situations gives the picture all the thrills any patron could want.

Said to be one of the funniest pictures of the entire screen season, "Careless Lady" shows to local audiences today at the Fox West Coast theater. Joan Bennett and John Boles have the leading roles in this Fox Films comedy-romance, which deals with the adventures and misadventures of a girl who goes to Paris to become sophisticated.

Salaries Of City Employees Reduced By Council

NEW SCHEDULE OF WAGES SET IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, May 5.—Further reductions in salaries and wages were put into effect for all city employees as the result of action taken last night by the city council. These reductions applied to employees who had not been touched by the previous reductions made to the fire department and other departments.

By recommendation of the finance committee, the salary of the fire chief was set at $190 a month, drivers $170, hose men $160 and new employees $150. Wages were set as follows: Labor, $4; skilled labor, $4.50; tractor drivers, $5; grader operators $5, auto mechanics $6.50, blacksmiths $6, foremen $5.

Following this scale of wages, a motion was then made that salaries of all city employees whose salaries had not been previously set by ordinance as in the case of city clerk and city treasurer, should be cut 10 per cent. As some of the city employees were formerly working but four days a week, they were reinstated to the full time, but were given the salary cut.

Former Councilman Frank Treadwell appeared before the board and requested permission to state publicly his stand and the reason he had recommended that L. H. Marshall, former assistant street superintendent, be let out. He stated that he believed this opportunity should be given him, as he had been misunderstood by many who thought that it was a personal matter between himself and Marshall, which he said was not the case. He said that Marshall had previously been discharged for drinking, by Marshall. He said that he objected to this action by Marshall.

H. F. Cagle, representing the Workers' legion, appeared before the trustees and requested permission to make solicitations for food in the city of Fullerton as well as to ask for donations. He explained that the organization was working solely for the welfare of those in need. The city also was asked to furnish free water for the commissary at 233 West Santa Fe, which was granted. The matter of the permit was referred to the police and welfare committee of the city council for action.

Permission was given to evangelists to erect a tent and hold meetings on the city property at the corner of Commonwealth and Highland for two weeks.

A resolution passed by the Orange County Builders' exchange was read to the trustees by the city clerk. The resolution urged a county-wide cooperation in the matter of building and that the

COLLEGE VISIT ARRANGED FOR BEACH SENIORS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 5.—The high school students and teachers are busy with preparations for various school events usually attended on the closing weeks of school. Yesterday at assembly University of Redlands students put on a program. Kenneth Golchirst, former student of the high school, now attending Redlands, addressed his former schoolmates and praised the university where he is now a student.

Redlands university has set aside May 14 as Huntington Beach visiting day and the seniors of this year will visit Redlands in a body.

The Girls' league members will entertain their mothers at a tea at the high school May 9 at 2:40 p. m. in observance of Mother's day. Miss Zoe Quiggle is president of the league and will be chairman of the Mother's day program.

The Cauldron, annual school publication, will be out in a few weeks. Miss Margaret Blinn is faculty member in charge of the Cauldron.

The distinguished service banquet is to be held this year June 3. A new system for selecting those entitled to attend this banquet is in effect. Instead of including only varsity students, it has been decided that certain points in school activities will be counted in favor of all students, thus entitling sophomores and freshmen to attend the banquet, and also the athletes on the B, C and D teams as well as varsity lettermen.

The junior-senior banquet will be held May 20 at Memorial hall or at the school cafeteria, most likely at Memorial hall, it is said. The banquet will be followed by a dance.

The new pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. J. Stuart Hydranus, were special guests and entertained the group with several Negro spirituals, the latter accompanying their songs on the banjo. Upon request of the class president, Mrs. M. E. Marshall, the pastor gave an interesting talk on "Faith." Community singing was led by Mrs. J. O. Preble and the devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Marshall.

Assisted by Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood and Mrs. J. O. Preble, the hostess served a two-course luncheon on individual trays. Included in the menu were two beautiful birthday cakes.

WORK ON HIGH SCHOOL PLANT STARTED SOON

TUSTIN, May 5.—Work on the new two-story addition to the machine shop building at Tustin Union High school will start the first of next week. The contract for the addition was awarded to L. R. Wilson, of Tustin, by the school trustees during their regular business session at the school this week. When bids were opened on the proposed addition, Mr. Wilson was low on the general contract with a bid of $5756. Local men will be employed. The electrical work was awarded to Steuckle and Millings on their bid of $332.

The upper room of the addition will be used by the art department and the lower room will be an extension to the mechanic art department and is to be used as the forge room. This addition has been planned for the past two years, the money to cover the entire cost having been saved from current expenses.

After much discussion, the school board decided that the teachers' salaries be cut and the force reduced, this cut resulting in a reduction of between seven and seven and a half per cent in the amount to be paid teachers next year. Expressed in dollars and cents, there will be a cut of between $5000 and $6000 in the high school salaries next year. This cut will be made in spite of the expected 10 per cent increase in the number of students next year. No salaries will be raised. Other salaries and school expenses were cut so as to enable the board to cut next year's complete budget 12-13 per cent.

In order to make the above cuts possible, several classes will be closed for one year, but no harm will be done to the curriculum of teaching as a whole, if it is stated. Students will simply have to plan their work more carefully, as certain subjects will be given alternate years only.

During organization of the school board for the ensuing year, John Osterman was re-elected president and W. J. Cheney, clerk.

Preceding the business meeting, girls of the domestic science class served a delectable 6 o'clock dinner in the school banquet room. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. John Osterman, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. Owen A. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. John Sauer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood, Principal and Mrs. John W. Means, Miss Emma B. Field, vice principal; Miss Florence Lindblom, domestic science teacher, and Miss Emma Dammann, assistant domestic science teacher.

The upper room of the addition will be used by the art department and the lower room will be an extension to the mechanic art department and is to be used as the forge room. This addition has been planned for the past two years, the money to cover the entire cost having been saved from current expenses.

After much discussion, the school board decided that the teachers' salaries be cut and the force reduced, this cut resulting in a reduction of between seven and seven and a half per cent in the amount to be paid teachers next year. Expressed in dollars and cents, there will be a cut of between $5000 and $6000 in the high school salaries next year. This cut will be made in spite of the expected 10 per cent increase in the number of students next year. No salaries will be raised. Other salaries and school expenses were cut so as to enable the board to cut next year's complete budget 12-13 per cent.

In order to make the above cuts possible, several classes will be closed for one year, but no harm will be done to the curriculum of teaching as a whole, if it is stated. Students will simply have to plan their work more carefully, as certain subjects will be given alternate years only.

During organization of the school board for the ensuing year, John Osterman was re-elected president and W. J. Cheney, clerk.

Preceding the business meeting, girls of the domestic science class served a delectable 6 o'clock dinner in the school banquet room. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. John Osterman, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. Owen A. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. John Sauer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood, Principal and Mrs. John W. Means, Miss Emma B. Field, vice principal; Miss Florence Lindblom, domestic science teacher, and Miss Emma Dammann, assistant domestic science teacher.

LA HABRA P.T. A. TOLD PLANS FOR YEAR'S WORK; CHILDREN GIVE PROGRAM

LA HABRA, May 5.—Mrs. R. W. Marvin of Anaheim, new president of the Fourth District P.T. A., gave the principal address at the meeting of the P.T. A. in the Lincoln school auditorium yesterday afternoon. She told of plans for the coming year and reviewed the recent convention held at Fresno.

As this was the last meeting of this organization for the current school year, it was announced that there would be a skit presented, entitled "The Reward of Faithfulness," in which certain members of the faculty would take part. At this time Mrs. Edna Wolfe, former president of the local P.T. A., read a paper and presented to Superintendent E. R. Berry, S. L. Treff, principal of the Wilson school; Prof. Frank L. Barrows, of the music department; Mrs. Anna Marie Marsh, assistant to Mr. Barrows, and Mrs. Alta Proud, principal of the Lincoln school, lovely potted plants in appreciation of their aid with

M'LeMore Blasts Race Betting Myth

"Ballyhoo," said Mister Shaw, "ballyhoo." You read in the papers you would think that thousands of dollars were being bet on the field. I'll bet you that Tom Kearney, ace of the Midwest commission, and myself didn't get a total of $15,000 in bets on the field, and as she was the red hot favorite, you can imagine how much we got on the rest of the field.

"My opinion that there weren't more than $50,000 bet on all the horses in all the winter books all over the country. You know what horse got the biggest single play with me? Gallant Sir, the California nag. And do you know how much was bet on him to start and win? Two thousand dollars.

Folks Getting Smart
"And don't think the winter books are so rich in other years. There weren't. The depression hasn't cut the betting down much. The truth is people have too much money to put their money into such a gamble. You know in the winter books you put your money down and hope your horse will go to the post. If he doesn't, well, that's just too bad.

"When you remember there were 115 nominations for the race and only about 15 or 16 will actually leave the barrier, you can see what an elegant gamble it is. Millions! You mean thousands, and millions of them."

It isn't hard to understand why the citizens still cling to the belief that everybody puts up their shirts in the winter books. Read this paragraph from a signed story from Louisville that appeared in a metropolitan daily yesterday:
"Internal revenue agents were at track and downtown resorts uncovering evidence of advance betting on the results on the Derby, today estimated at $400,000."
Forty millions! Absurd, absurd, absurd. In the first place, there isn't that much money in the world. In the second place, most of the betting on the race is done at the track with the mutuels, and the highest day the Derby has ever saw was in 1925 when something over $2,000,000 was passed over the counter for the cute little tickets.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, May 5.—(UP)—A turnabout in U. S. government issues contributed to a better tone in the bond market today, but price movements were highly erratic and many domestic corporation issues slumped to further new lows.

Early in the session the liberty loans and treasury certificates were subjected to further pressure, but the situation as the session progressed and the whole group showed substantial gains as the session entered the afternoon.

Rallying tendencies also cropped out in some of the recently weak railroad bonds, notably issues of the Missouri Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio. Other carriers were in supply again, as were most of the domestic industrial and public utility corporation loans.

Foreign obligations were irregular. British 4½s were in active demand and jumped to a new 1932 high. Australian issues gained, German and French bonds were steady, while Italian loans reacted.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 5.—(UP)—Wall Street today was swinging toward bullishness, but the market was not in balance and the budget and the service to check declining tendencies which brought many issues into new low ground in early trading.

As in several recent sessions, the market maintained the best tone in the day selling lightened and prices came back from their lows, only to sell off again near the close. In the late dip, the early lows were not touched, however.

Steel common dipped to 26 1/2 and closed at 27 1/2, off 1/2. The American Can which touched 35 1/2, ended the day at 36 1/2. Other leaders behaved correspondingly.

THE NEBBES—From One Who Knows

MR. NEBB, ARE YOU SURE YOU CAN DO SOMETHING FOR MY POOR ARTHUR? HE SAYS THEY HAD TO ARREST SOMEONE SO THEY PICKED HIM.

DON'T WORRY MOTHER, LEAVE IT TO RUDOLPH NEBB, ESQUIRE. I'LL GET YOUR BOY OUT AND I'LL MAKE THEM ADMIT THAT THIS ARREST WAS A MISTAKE—JUST LEAVE IT TO ME!

RUDY NEBB, WHO HAS PROMISED THE LITTLE OLD MOTHER TO GET HER BOY OUT OF JAIL, HAS PASSED THE JOB OVER TO THE EX-CROOK, ROCKNEY FLINT.

OFFICER, I'D LIKE TO SEE THE BOY UNDER ARREST. WE MISSED A LOT OF THINGS FROM OUR DRESSING ROOMS AT THE STUDIOS AND I'D LIKE TO TALK TO HIM A MINUTE.

IT AIN'T REGULAR BUT I'LL LET YOU GO IN AND SEE HIM. BUT DON'T PUT NO IDEAS IN HIS MIND. HE'S GOT PLENTY OF 'EM.

WELL, YOU GOT YOURSELF IN A NICE MESS! YOU'RE A FINE UPSTANDING REPRESENTATIVE CITIZEN! CHANCES ARE IF YOU GET OUT IN TIME, YOU'LL BE THE NEXT NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT!

MAKING 'EM LIKE IT

The vote for Mr. Hoover was very gratifying, in view of the fact that there was no opposition on the Republican ticket, and hence they were voting simply as an expression of good will. The Republicans were given the ballot on the referendum and the ballot for the presidential election.

According to the figures of the total returns, however, there were 200,000 voters who voted on the oil question, who did not cast their vote on the presidential ticket at all. This amounts to 33 1-3 per cent of those who voted for Mr. Hoover.

Since election day, we have learned of many Republicans, who, when confronted with the Republican ballot voted for it under protest, or refused to vote for it when they saw the names of some people on the ticket whom they would be sending to the national convention.

As one of the voters said: "I did not realize that I would have to swallow James Rolph and Mabel Walker Willebrandt, in order to support President Hoover."

The loyalty of a great group of people is being sorely tested, by the elements who are being placed in control of the party. Mrs. Willebrandt had the confidence and the trust of the millions of prohibition men and women in this country, at least she had earned it by a supposed thorough-going effort to enforce the Constitution and the law.

But she resigned this position for the government, and promptly became the attorney for the grape concentrate people, the object of whose organization was to foist the sale of their product on the market for the manufacture of wine, which was only prevented by the decision of a Federal court.

To accomplish this, Mrs. Willebrandt used all of her influence, all of her talent, and in the judgment of these same millions of people, betrayed the confidence and trust which they had reposed in her. The placing of her and Rolph on the delegation for the support of the President raises a serious question in the minds of many, as to the good faith of the party in a program for the upholding of the Constitution and the Law. There are others of like type on the ticket.

We are looking for Mr. Hoover to clear the atmosphere in no uncertain way. He is capable of doing it, and many of his friends declare that he will do it upon this question. He has shown distinct bravery, whatever one's opinions may be of the justice or wisdom of his actions, in coming out against the soldiers' bonus, and of vetoing various economic measures. And we believe that it is entirely possible that he will refuse to accept the candidacy on the Republican platform, with a plank in it that will be desired and worked for by the Rolphs and the Willebrandts and Walter Browns on the liquor question.

We and millions of others supported Mr. Hoover against Alfred E. Smith, with the distinct and clear understanding that his position was dependable, and the way of the administration was mapped out for a clear and certain method, and we are still ready to repeat the efforts, if we can only find a good reasonable excuse to do it. We wonder if somebody has designs on our party, determined to hurt it nationally if they can.

HEFLIN IS OUT

By a heavy majority, ex-Senator Heflin was denied a seat in the Senate for which, on the face of the returns, he was defeated at the last national election. The southern Democracy will overlook many things, but it will not overlook the bolt of the regular candidate of the party, no matter who he may be. That is a cardinal political offense for which there is no forgiveness; and Heflin has found that out, greatly to his sorrow.

The so-called "Hoovercrats" of the South have all been eliminated from the party. There is no further hope for them in the political realm. Shut out from the Democratic primaries, there is no door open to them to appear before the people.

It will be many years before another politician will dare to jump over the traces in the South. To be sure, similar circumstances may never again arise such as arose in the campaign of 1928, when the Democratic party nominated for the presidency a candidate who ran up squarely against all the views of the people of the South. So, there is little danger of another bolt in the near future. Democracy to the Southerner is as sacrosanct, and more so, than his religion, and his belief in white supremacy. It was said of one prominent Southerner that he once made the statement that if "Yankee Doodle" were in the Southern hymn book he would sing it if it killed him. His devotion to the Democratic party is not unlike that.

Senator Heflin, emphasizing strongly the views that the South held, evidently did not correctly measure the degree of prejudice which they have in favor of the Democratic party, and against any man who would break over his traces. It is difficult to believe that Senator Bankhead was elected, in the light of the evidence of wholesale fraud. It is difficult to believe that there was anything but partisanship in the vote for the United States Senate.

Was it John Quincy Adams who emphasized the manner in which the people had conquered the forces of nature, overcome opposition in every other form, but the greatest enemy, their prejudices, they had not been able to overcome? Prejudice is the most difficult thing to conquer and with many of us it is impossible.

There are 100,000,000 sheep in Australia, statistics tell us. Maybe that's why insomnia is practically unknown there.

THIRST THREATENS TIA JUANA

Isn't it strange that we have such a concerted and united and vociferous yell being emitted from Tia Juana when a practically prohibitive tax has been placed on liquor? Merchants say it is ruining them and it is going to ruin Tia Juana.

Liquor evidently has made Tia Juana. It has made it famous, and it has made it infamous. The declaration comes now from Tia Juana that with no sales of liquor, the tourists have stopped, and there is no business in the town. We wonder why tourists go to Tia Juana.

Our "wet" friends tell us that there is more liquor obtainable in the United States now than there was before prohibition came into effect; that there are more people selling it; it is more plentiful everywhere, and more people are drinking it. We wonder why they go to Tia Juana. Possibly they go there to sober up.

We can't believe it possible that our "wet" friends are telling the truth, in the light of these merchants in Tia Juana. They say that the people come to Tia Juana to drink.

Another strange thing that bothers us in the clear thinking that ought to be the result of the information and arguments given us by these "wet" fellows—they say there is more money engaged in the business now, and more liquor manufactured, and yet they say they ought to have the condition changed in order to give employment to more folks. We wonder how this can be, if it won't throw all these people out of employment, who are manufacturing and selling this liquor.

Whichever phase of the argument you take up, you come to the conclusion if you are trying to rationalize it, that you have either lost your wits, or that the fellows who have been forwarding these arguments must have been looking through a beer glass, bottom-side up.

When Bruin Goes Domestic

Christian Science Monitor
Of all the wild animals, the bear probably stands next in line for domestication. It is already on very friendly terms with the human race; tourists in the Yosemite and other national parks might say altogether too friendly. One characteristic of the bear is its persistence. When a full-grown bruin inaugurates a food drive it brooks no interference.

Such a bear recently made its uninvited appearance in a Brooklyn home. Its intentions clearly were of a nonmilitant nature, but brown bears have not been kicking around the house long enough to give them the status of a marmoset cat and there was a wild rush to cover when it made a polite but efficient entrance and announced that contributions for relief were in order and no questions asked.

And then there it gave a practical demonstration of "How to Conduct a Food Canvass" that might well be adopted by the Red Cross or other relief organizations as a model. When the bear left the house, encouraged by a squad of police and a bag of cookies, mostly the latter, it had qualified for the degree of D. F. C., doctor of food consumption. Its familiarity with culinary equipment was marvelous. It emptied the ice chest, tipped it up and shook it, undertook to exhaust the local milk supply, and took a chicken dinner so far into the confidence that the family table has worn an empty expression ever since.

These pleasing little traits of bears—Wall Street variety excepted—are surely indicative of an approach to domesticity. Their indifference to the presence of human beings, their general good nature, and the readiness with which they adapt themselves to "civilized" practices indicate that it may not be long before little brown bears are cluttering up the kitchen or displaying their exceptional qualities and pedigreed lineage at annual bear shows.

From Iowa

San Francisco Chronicle
The reason why the population of Iowa has remained almost static for a generation is explained by a bulletin from the Bureau of the Census which shows that, within that time, more than a million natives of the state have moved into other states. In the case of only eighteen states does the census tabulation show natives of Iowa separately; in the others, they are classed with others as "from other states." But there are enough definitely listed to account for a total of 848,000.

Of this number 242,000 are on the Pacific coast—157,000 in California, 51,000 in Washington and 34,000 in Oregon. The bulletin says that the six states which bound Iowa contained on April 1, 1930, 491,000 native-born Iowans. Illinois had 122,000, Minnesota 114,000, Nebraska 81,000, South Dakota 67,000, Missouri 60,000 and Wisconsin 37,000. The presence of nearly half a million natives of Iowa in the adjoining states indicates, as do other statistics from the Bureau of the Census, that the American is restless, but that his restlessness often carries him only a few miles across a state line. Not all of the 157,000 Iowans who have moved to California and lived there long enough for the census to find them can be retired farmers or wives of retired farmers, but legend will continue to have it so. The motives of the migrants to the Pacific coast, who had half a continent to traverse, must have been considerably different from those of the Iowans who moved a few miles east or south or west and thereby became exiles.

TO A SQUIRREL

When in the Springtime you appear
To hunt the nuts you hid last year

You scratch and dig and delve around
Far-stretching sections of the ground,
And hunt beneath the garden rows
But not a nut do you disclose.

But every wicked thieving jay
Knew where those nuts were hid away.

Last Fall he swung upon a twig
And watched you squirrels delve and dig

And when each nut you had interred
This greedy pirate of a bird

Extracted it, with claws of steel,
And made of it his evening meal

While you were rushing here and there
To find and bury future fare.

In school today Miss Kitty was telling us all about selfishness and how it's one of the greatest things there is and the best way to be, saying, You must strive all your mite against selfishness and I'm sure you all do when you think of it. I'm sure you can all remember some act of selfishness that you have accomplished during the passed week, and I want you to write it down and describe it in a few well chosen words in the form of a composition, she said.

And she gave out paper and some wrote and some could remember anything, Miss Kitty saying, Well now suppose I ask a few boys to read us their acts of selfishness, I will begin with Benny Potts.

Meaning for me to read mine. With I did, being, One day this week me and a friend of mine put together all the old newspapers we could find in our cellars and took them around to the junkman in my friend's express wagon and the junkman gave us 5 cents apiece, and we was sitting on my front steps talking about what we would do with the money and we decided to each put it in our banks and save it, and we was talking about what a grate thing it is to save your money instead of spending it as fast as you get it and then not having any left to either save or spend, and just then the waffle man drove passed ringing his bell, and my friend quick jumped up and bawled 5 cents worth with his 5 cents and I unselfishly did the same with my 5 cents to save him from the embarrassment of having to offer me some when I didn't have any to offer him some.

My goodness, I think one example of unselfishness will be quite enough, Miss Kitty said. Properly meaning too much, and she collected the papers and started the drawing lesson.

When one has to ask that question it is clear that things have gone beyond a reasonable limit. The usual everyday good sense that rules the world has been ignored and the children have been permitted to overstep the bounds of healthy need and appetite. The parents have stepped aside and allowed the children to go forward. Leadership has been transferred. Leadership is the first right of parenthood. In fact it is the first duty.

When children are very little they are helpless and their helplessness is appealing. We like to make them happy, to see them laugh and play. We know that we are able by the movement of a fingertip to control their actions. We do not even move the fingertip but let them have their own sweet way. They take it and thrive amazingly until we discover in consternation, that they are a stride ahead of us and we will have to use the full strength of our strong right arm to hold them. That must be done nevertheless because leadership is a right and a duty.

This means that a child is to follow its parents until the time comes that he has sufficient strength to go forward on his own. Obedience, willingness to lead, willingness to listen and to try to get the parents' point of view, willingness to co-operate, are attitudes that parents have the right to expect. They can have them provided they have all along taken the trouble to maintain them. They can have the full enjoyment of all their rights of parenthood if they have seen them in the light of so many duties to be performed.

A parent has the right to the love and understanding of his children. To their co-operation and obedience, to be free from worry about their conduct, to be free from annoyance within the home, to the confidence that children will not spend what they have not got, to the certainty that they will do what they say they will do, to the trust and loyalty and the faith and integrity of his children.

Those are a parent's rights. But a parent has to pay for them in terms of duty done. He will never win his rights in his children until they put their trust in him. They will trust him only when experience with him teaches them that they are justified in doing so.

In other words, a parent's rights are limited only by the affection he is able to inspire in his children.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

PLANNING MEANS HARD WORK

It is obvious, as I have said so often in these articles, that the old policy of "let things take their course" is no longer adequate in this complex and interlocked society we have adopted.

We have made amazing advances in the science of administering our separate economic enterprises.

But we find now that good management of individual concerns is not enough.

Unless the whole economic order meshes, our individual concerns suffer despite the ability that has gone into their organization and management.

This is why the cry for planning is heard on all hands. I find business men, bankers, and industrialists who, 10 years ago, would have grown apoplectic at the suggestion of subjecting individual rights to group control or social regulation they out in the forefront of those who are agitating for varied forms of planning.

These suggestions for planning, by and large, take two forms: (1) The idea of group planning by self-governing industrial federations which could be effected if we were willing drastically to revise our anti-trust laws to permit their organization.

The idea usually is that such self-governing industrial fields could, acting in concert, bring intelligent regulation to bear upon such problems as:

Competition
Investment
Production

(2) The idea of a national planning by some such agency as a National Economic Council.

The idea usually is that such an agency would give us what we wholly lack now—an agency that would be concerned with the intelligent management, not of separate concerns, but of the whole economic order, upon the proper functioning of which even the fortunes of separate concerns depends. Such a council is usually thought of as a national advisory group of experts, with, perhaps, some actual authority over the functioning of the sort of self-governing industrial groups I suggested above.

Tomorrow and next day I want to indicate how important it is for us to realize that such "planning" will not prove an automatic panacea, but that it will have to travel over a rocky road of enormous difficulties.

Tomorrow I shall speak of the difficulties in the way of group planning, and the day after of the difficulties in the way of national planning.

But—let me make plain—I shall speak of these difficulties, not to discourage planning, but rather to suggest the realistic mood in which we must approach planning.

Parents have rights. Often, in the face of their struggles with the children, this fact looks doubtful. If one suppresses a child at once one's conscience upbraids him. Yet there is a limit to the noise and disorder an adult can stand. If one refuses requests for expensive things one is at once disturbed lest the child is being deprived of essentials. There is a limit to what we can give children. To go beyond it is to court disaster for ourselves and for them. In short, parents have rights that have to be maintained if the home is to stand. Just what are a parent's rights and where is the limit?

When one has to ask that question it is clear that things have gone beyond a reasonable limit. The usual everyday good sense that rules the world has been ignored and the children have been permitted to overstep the bounds of healthy need and appetite. The parents have stepped aside and allowed the children to go forward. Leadership has been transferred. Leadership is the first right of parenthood. In fact it is the first duty.
